DRYDOCK TO BE CONFERENCE ISSUE

Meeting of Organizations
Called To-morrow

Messages of Protest Pour in to Ottawa

Determined to give Ottawa authorities no rest until a satisfactory answer is received in respect to the continuation of the construction work on the Esquimalt drydock, a further conference of business men of the city will be held at the Chamber of Commerce Rooms at 10.30 o'clock to-morrow morning.

The various prominent citizens who have taken up the case have been extremely active since the announcement of the closing down of the work. Every effort is being made to convince Ottawa that it is vital to the interests of Canada's national shipping, and the prosperity of the Pacific Coast of Canada that the drydock should be completed.

Three Protests.
The Esquimalt Property Owners' Association decided to send a telegram to Dr. J. H. King, Federal Minister of Public Works, urging the necessity and continuance of the construction of the drydock at their meeting last evening.

Last night, George I. Warren, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, received a telegram from Dr. S. F. Tolmie, M. P. for Victoria, stating that the wire of the Associated Boards of Trade concerning the Esquimalt drydock had been read on the floor of the House.

"The Government speaks encouragingly of the matter, but can give no definite statement," said Dr. Tolmie in his wire.

The unemployed are strongly voicing a protest against the stoppage of work on the drydock. Vigorous protests have been forwarded to the Prime Minister and Minister of Public Works, by A. T. Purdy, secretary of the Victoria and District Unemployed Council.

INTERNATIONAL SITUATION

The Stooke Conservative Association has addressed a letter of protest to Charles H. Dickie, M. P., at the same time forwarding a copy to Hon. S. F. Tolmie, M. P. for Victoria, in relation to the suspension of work by the Dominion Government upon the construction of the drydock at Esquimalt upon the following grounds:

(1) That with the entry into the modern era of the nations of the East, the steadily growing importance of the American States of the Pacific Coast, and of the Western Provinces of Canada, and the rapid expansion of Australasia and the advance of the South American Republics, the Pacific Ocean tends to equal, if not surpass, the Atlantic as a sphere of industrial activity and naval commerce.

(2) That this fact is fully recognized by the American cities of Seattle, Portland, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

(3) That Victoria, the natural water gateway of the Canadian West, must take its part in this struggle for pre-eminence, or else sacrifice the privileges and responsibilities of its birthright as to position and general commercial facilities.

(4) That in taking steps for the construction and equipment of an up-to-date modern drydock at Esquimalt the late coalition Government

ONE BIG UNION ENGAGES IN CONTEST

Struggle With A. F. of L. Body in Massachusetts

Cause of Division Is a Textile Strike

Lawrence, Mass., April 4.—This city to-day was the scene not only of a struggle between cotton mills and their striking operatives over a wage cut, but of a contest between conservative and radical labor unions for strike control.

The One Big Union, organized nowhere else in New England, had become a militant factor—overnight through the action of Ben Legere in obtaining from a mass meeting of strikers yesterday acceptance of its leadership and repudiation of that of the United Textile Workers of America. The latter organization, headed by President Thomas F. McMahon, who is in personal charge of its activities here, held its ground and Mr. McMahon announced that it would extend its forces without regard to the opposition. As an added factor in the fight for control of the American Federation of Labor, the Textile Operatives, a strike is planned by all the unions.

NEW METHODS

The One Big Union will organize its strike in a way new to New England, according to Legere, in a statement he reviewed the history of the movement, beginning at Winnipeg, and its organization on community lines, by which it seeks a membership representative of all labor elements without distinction, and said this would be followed out with a view to a big demonstration in which the whole city would join. Such a general strike was not immediately contemplated, he explained, but would be tried if other means should fail.

Legere, an actor who said he left a New York stage to assume charge of the strike at Lawrence, asserted that the old line of labor organization represented by the United Textile Workers, an American Federation of Labor organization, had outlived its usefulness.

SECRETARIES OF BRITISH GROUP ON WAY TO GENOA

London, April 4.—The minor officials and secretaries of the British delegation to the Genoa Conference left London this morning for Italy.

Athens, April 4.—Greece will be represented at the Genoa Conference by Premier Gounaris, M. Rouffos, Minister of National Economy, and M. Mallach, Deputy from Saloniki.

Leaders in France Now Hope for Genoa Conference Results

Paris, April 4.—The French attitude toward the Genoa Conference has undergone a great change in the last forty-eight hours, the coolness and scepticism previously shown in official circles having given way to the sentiment that something must come out of the conference and that the French delegation must go to work wholeheartedly to that end. Premier Poincare has definitely decided to go himself as soon as his official duties permit.

The subjects which it is now generally agreed must be discussed at Genoa are the reconstruction of Europe generally and Russia in particular; stabilization of exchange; the breaking down of exceptional barriers to trade due to special customs regulations and obstructions to transportation, and an international credits consortium for reconstruction.

Opposition to an international financial organization is expected from the Russian delegates, who are known to look with little favor on a combination of capitalists to undertake this work.

Another subject which it is thought here is likely to provoke controversy is Premier Lloyd George's question of general European peace. It is feared this may open up a general discussion of political questions, to which France is strongly opposed, as it may pave the way for a move on the part of the Germans to bring the Treaty of Versailles into question.

The fact is control of the republican youth is slipping from de Valera and Bureaux. The new leaders of these young men, so far as they follow any leader, are Ames, Robinson, Berry and O'Malley, the four men who led the recent seizures at Limerick, and Roderick O'Connor, Liam Mellows and Michael Tynan.

"De Valera may still be acclaimed leader, but he is a liniment for external use only and is shifting his ideas daily."

CHINESE COMING TO CANADA MUST HAVE PASSPORTS

Immigration Order-in-Council
Will Be Strictly Enforced
After April 15

All Chinese coming to Canada from China after April 15 must be equipped with passports, according to a circular issued to the agents of transportation companies, by Samuel N. Reid, Controller of Chinese Immigration. Mr. Reid has been instructed by Ottawa to strictly enforce the provisions of E. C. 2688, which, in part, says:

"The entry or landing in Canada is hereby prohibited of any person who is not in possession of a valid passport issued by the Government of the country of which such person is a subject or citizen, and for the purposes of this regulation such passport must be presented within one year of the date of its issue, and if not a British passport must carry the visa of a British diplomatic or consular officer."

"Provided this regulation shall not apply to British subjects coming to Canada directly or indirectly from the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, the United States of America, or any self-governing British Dominion or Newfoundland; nor shall it apply to American citizens entering Canada from the United States of America, nor to persons who have been resident in the United States of America for a period of at least one year immediately prior to their entry to or landing in Canada."

Closer Examination.
Stringent regulations and the head tax are still in force against the entry of Chinese into Canada, but under the provisions of the new ruling the Chinese will have to be subjected to a closer examination prior to their departure from China and carry a proper passport, or he will not be allowed to go aboard ship. At the present time the only Chinese are allowed to land in this country are minors under 15 years of age who are the children of Chinese residents in the United States of America.

Prairie Cattle Man Urges Canadian Activity
St. John, N.B., April 4.—That the cattle embargo on Great Britain could be lifted if a little pressure was brought to bear from this side of the water, was a statement by Hon. H. A. Mullins, of Winnipeg, who was a passenger on the steamship Montcalm, which arrived in port yesterday.

Colonel Mullins, who is one of the oldest and most prominent cattlemen of the Canadian Prairies, went to England on his own initiative to investigate the cattle situation as it affected Canada and the outlook for the lifting of the embargo. He spoke in London and several other English and Scottish cities on the removal of the embargo and he maintains that as far as the public was concerned, there was little or no opposition. He said the general feeling in Scotland and England was that Canadian cattle should be admitted. Colonel Mullins emphasized the fact that a little activity in Canada would open up that market for cattle.

Immigration.
Speaking of immigration matters, Colonel Mullins said there was a great desire on the part of residents of the British Isles to learn about Canada. Many had eagerly questioned him about the country, and it was quite evident from their ignorance of Canada that there is little effort being made to attract them through literature or propaganda of any kind.

He said there was a splendid type of settler there, eager to contribute to the development of the country, if placed on Western lands, where they were needed.

SOUTH RHODESIA TO JOIN UNION

Terms Debated With South African Leaders

Premier Smuts Says Citizens
Are Brothers

London, April 4.—(Canadian Press Cable)—Reuters Cape Town correspondent cables that a conference of considerable political importance to South Africa has been begun between Premier Smuts and a delegation from Rhodesia regarding the terms of admission upon which Southern Rhodesia may enter the Union of South Africa. Delegates from Northern Rhodesia are also present, although the inclusion of that territory is not contemplated in the immediate future.

Premier Smuts, in opening the conference, pointed out that although the Government of the Union of South Africa could not propose terms without first having a full, fair, frank discussion on the questions at issue, he emphasized the fact that whatever decision the Rhodesians should reach with regard to joining the Union of South Africa, they would always be regarded as friends and brothers.

Supporters of the Government in the Legislature are meeting in Regina this afternoon to discuss the situation. Probably the meeting will be asked to approve of the new Cabinet, which will necessarily consist of a series of by-elections and thus possibly offer an opportunity to the Saskatchewan Grain Growers actively to participate in provincial politics.

Mr. Martin was the second Premier of the province, having succeeded Hon. Walter Scott in 1916. Previously he sat in the House of Commons for eight years as a Liberal. He is not yet forty-six years old.

Mr. Dunning is between thirty-six and thirty-seven, and if he succeeds Mr. Martin he will be the youngest Premier in Canada. Mr. Dunning's career has been outstanding. He was a member of the Legislature and later in the same year Provincial Treasurer. Mr. Dunning has been active in the organized farmers' movement in his province along lines other than political.

ATMOSPHERE WAS CLEARED BY VOTE

Ministry's Leadership in Britain
Was Confirmed

Unionist Member Is to Offer
Another Motion

London, April 4.—The overwhelming victory of Premier Lloyd George in the House of Commons last evening cleared the atmosphere in the House of the Government's policy toward the Genoa Conference, the Premier early in the debate declared the Cabinet would stand or fall on the result of the division. The result left no doubt as to the strength of the Government.

Apparently nettled by intimations that he was dodging a direct vote of confidence in presenting his resolution calling for support of the Government's policy toward the Genoa Conference, the Premier early in the debate declared the Cabinet would stand or fall on the result of the division. The result left no doubt as to the strength of the Government.

The Opposition centred its attack behind the Labour amendment, which would have declared lack of confidence in the Government. When that went down in an avalanche of "aye"s, the issue was as good as decided, and the subsequent debate was almost perfunctory.

CLASHES IN TYRONE HILLS REPORTED

Belfast, April 4.—Colonel Montague Bates, chief of the Southern Liaison Commission, said to-day that orders had been given to the Sinn Feiners at Ballygish Bridge to cease firing and that these orders were being obeyed. He said there was now no shooting from the Free State side of the Ulster border.

Despite the lull in sniping activities, however, loyalists have not been permitted to return to their farms which are occupied by Southerners and about 500 are moving out of this area.

SASKATCHEWAN TO HAVE NEW PREMIER

Hon. C. A. Dunning Expected to Form Ministry

Regina, April 4.—Hon. William M. Martin, First Minister in the Saskatchewan Government since October, 1916, and prominent in the public life of the province for the last fourteen years, has resigned as Premier. Announcement of his appointment to the Saskatchewan Appeal Court bench is expected in a few days. Pending reorganization of the Cabinet, Mr. Martin is continuing in office, but it is thought that in a day or so Hon. C. A. Dunning, the present Provincial Treasurer, will be called upon to form a Government.

Supporters of the Government in the Legislature are meeting in Regina this afternoon to discuss the situation. Probably the meeting will be asked to approve of the new Cabinet, which will necessarily consist of a series of by-elections and thus possibly offer an opportunity to the Saskatchewan Grain Growers actively to participate in provincial politics.

The conditions imposed by the Commission include payment of 10,000,000 gold francs this year and 30,000,000 in 1923, balancing of the budget and regulation of the issuance of paper money. Penalties are threatened if the conditions are not met by April 30.

Coast Rotary Clubs Hear Ambassador at Vancouver Meeting

Friends of International Harmony Should Put End to Work of Suspicion Mongers, Sir Auckland Geddes Tells Delegates in Terminal City.

By Staff Correspondent of The Times.

Vancouver, April 4.—"If the world is to be purged of the poisonous propaganda which professional 'suspicion mongers' are assiduously spreading, and saved from another catastrophe like the Great War, the friends of peace and international harmony in every country must band themselves into a bodyguard to see that the peoples of the world get the facts, the truth about all world developments."

Welcomed with deafening cheers and applause, Sir Auckland Geddes, British Ambassador to the United States, delivered this message to the great conference of Northwest Rotary Clubs, in session here to-day.

"You probably attach more importance than I do to the efforts of Governments to preserve peace and harmony," Sir Auckland observed when the tumultuous cheering which greeted his entrance into the convention hall had died down. "I attach much more importance to the people themselves, for Governments can do little unless they have behind them, in the hearts of the people, the spirit of friendship and goodwill."

Democracy.
Looking back over human history, the student finds that the world has moved in cycles—from peace to war. But to-day the peoples of the world for the first time had an opportunity of preventing the completion of such a cycle, because the democratic system of government now prevailed in almost every nation and because the great mass of people were actuated by feelings of friendliness towards other countries. The great mass of people wanted no more of war, Sir Auckland declared.

While the peoples of the earth desired peace and harmony above all things, Sir Auckland warned there was a danger of any nation becoming too trusting of its neighbors, and whose object was to create international suspicion and distrust. In the publication of all countries the reader found articles which imputed the most malignant motives to other nations. "These are absolutely baseless," Sir Auckland asserted. "No representative of any nation has any desire for anything except the speediest restoration of confidence and the complete restoration of industry and prosperity."

Facts Desired.
The success of poisonous, malicious publicity, Sir Auckland went on, was due to the fact that there was no organization prepared to offer proof of the malignant and trouble-breeding report. "I am in favor of the fullest publicity for facts, but the absolute suppression of malignant fancy," he added.

Because the people of a democratic country have decided entirely upon the press for their information, and the press for their information, no organization, said Sir Auckland, could undertake a more valuable work than to insist that no valuable work articles should be produced or the writers discredited. This was a work which Rotary might well undertake, he said.

able to Judge.
"In all countries, certainly in the countries of the Empire, it is essential that the men whose desire is to extend friendship should take upon themselves to see that the sources of information upon which the people must base their judgments are not poisoned and that truth is given wide publicity," he concluded. "It is essential that they form a bodyguard for truth and meet the poison with the strong antidote of truth. Give the people the facts and I have great confidence in their ability to judge rightly."

Victorians There.
Close to one hundred Victorians and their wives are attending the convention and are assisting the Vancouver Club members in entertaining the visitors from other cities. The Victorians are taking a prominent part in the proceedings at all sessions of the conference. A feature of to-day's programme was an address by P. C. Abell, of the Victoria Club, who told the conference about the work of the Victoria Club and the Victoria Club's contribution to the war effort.

Rotarian James Hunter, of Victoria, as John Bull, and Mrs. Hunter as Britannia, were the leading figures in a splendid pageant representing the nations of the world last night.

This morning's session of the conference was devoted chiefly to routine business and to Sir Auckland Geddes' address. The convention will wind up to-night with a ball at the Vancouver Hotel.

METHODIST CHURCH NEEDS RECRUITS FOR MINISTRY

Toronto, April 4.—A note of alarm is sounded in a statement issued by the Methodist Bookroom, Toronto, which after quoting figures showing that although there are more ordained ministers in active work by ninety-six than in the year the war broke out and more supernumerary men by thirty-nine, there are nevertheless, 146 fewer probationers on circuit in Canada and 352 fewer probationers at college.

"We can not but realize that in the very near future we must have a great many new recruits for our ministry to carry on successfully the work of the church," it is declared.

B. J. PERRY FIGHTS STRONG BATTLE FOR CHINESE DOMINOES

Urges Legality of Ancient Game Before Magistrate Jay

Compiling Gambling Studies in Treatise, Tells Court

Describing the evidence in the charge of frequenting a gambling house, laid against B. J. Perry, thirty-three Chinamen and one Japanese as being very conflicting. Magistrate Jay in the city Police Court this morning deferred judgment until Friday morning, in order to permit of study of the evidence.

The court room was crowded with Chinamen and a sprinkling of white men when the court opened this morning, and the array of accused piled to their places in response to their names with almost military precision. Mr. Perry being accommodated at the counsel's table as conducting his own defence.

Three of the accused Chinese gave evidence this morning, all agreeing that the game of Dong How, or Chinese dominoes had been conducted openly at the Yuen Loy Club in Fan Tan Alley, with every facility for inspection by the police, as they felt assured that, with no rake-off, and combining chance and skill in a manner allowed by the code, there was no grounds for the raiding by the authorities last Sunday morning.

Value of the Club. Wong declared that sometimes winners of dollar bets gave the "watcher" a present, but Wun Lung declared that, if there were any rake-off, he would never play, as the game would not be fair. Chien was even more parsimonious, he told the court he had played Dong How for ten years, and had never yet given any watcher or banker a present.

None of the witnesses were members of the club in Fan Tan Alley, where they were found by the police in the famous raid, all of them were comparative strangers to the city, and none knew where the rent was paid, who saw to the lighting or anything else save that the club was a good place to enjoy a quiet smoke.

For the Chinamen, Mr. Brethour argued that the whole case for the prosecution was based on suspicion that a rake off was taken in some underhanded form, and that, as his witnesses had told straight stories which had not been shaken, the case should be dismissed.

Evidence of Good Character. B. J. Perry called the Court's attention to the fact that, as the police had notified all Chinatown gamblers requiring a rake-off for the house must cease, the continuance of the pastime with open doors was prima facie evidence of the good character of Dong How.

"It is unfortunate for the powers that be which strive to make this world a modern millenium, that the Gaming Act was drafted some thousand years after the invention and perfection by ingenious Chinamen of this game of Dong How," said Mr. Perry.

"The Act says playing a game where the bank goes around, where winning factors are partly skill and partly chance, where there is no rake-off to the house, is not an offence. Unfortunately for these people, and unfortunately for the men charged here, this game overcomes all these restrictions," he assured the Court.

City Prosecutor Harrison recalled a large number of divergences between the evidence of Mr. Perry, and that of the various Chinese witnesses called, and on these grounds he requested the court to ignore the fact that the prima facie case made out by the prosecution, "I am going to ask your Honor to disbelieve all this evidence, and to believe that the game of Dong How is not a game of chance, but a game of skill."

The Prosecution's Case. At yesterday's session of the Court further evidence was heard. Chief Fry stated that on March 3 he had sent around a manifesto, in which the operators of the domino game were told that they could no longer take a "rake off" and since that time none were supposed to play where there was such a rake off by "the house."

At this stage of the trial Chief Fry played a game of dominoes for the court at the request of W. A. Brethour, for the accused. The Chief's exposition of the game was correct, more or less, stated B. J. Perry later. Reading from the Act, Mr. Perry cross-examined the Chief.

"In your opinion in this game, in your limited experience, is not a bank kept by one or more players exclusively of the others, now is it?" "One man handles the money," returned the witness.

"How do you know it is not a rule of the game that the others can demand their turn at the bank?" continued Mr. Perry.

"One man keeps the bank until he is done," replied the witness.

"Are the chances equal," continued Mr. Perry, "and is there any percentage between the banker and the others?"

"If a game of chance," began the Chief.

"Are the chances equal?" queried

Mr. Perry, "are they favorable to all?"

"No, they are not," replied the witness. At this stage Mr. Perry read again from the Act, which he interpreted to the court.

"Is that table," continued Mr. Perry, "pointing in its own defence, as a witness in its own defence, playing dominoes, or can it be used for any other purpose?"

"It can," replied the Chief patently, "but it is the table used for playing dominoes as a rule."

At this stage Mr. Perry examined the warrant, which he appeared about to question, when advised not to by W. A. Brethour, counsel for the remaining accused.

"You made a raid two and a half years ago on much the same place," continued Mr. Perry to witness, and the magistrate dismissed the case, on the grounds that it was not illegal, didn't you?"

"Yes, but it was dismissed for lack of sufficient evidence," replied the Chief.

Detective Phillips and Constable McClelland were next examined, corroborating the evidence for the Crown in the details of the raid.

As a witness in his own defence, Mr. Perry stated that he was present at the Yuen Loy Club in the interest of a literary work on Chinese pastimes which he had been preparing for some years past. He did not believe Dong How or Chinese dominoes to be a gambling game, and quoted a previous ruling of the Magistrate as being to the effect that straight stories which had not been shaken, the case should be dismissed.

One of the witnesses were members of the club in Fan Tan Alley, where they were found by the police in the famous raid, all of them were comparative strangers to the city, and none knew where the rent was paid, who saw to the lighting or anything else save that the club was a good place to enjoy a quiet smoke.

For the Chinamen, Mr. Brethour argued that the whole case for the prosecution was based on suspicion that a rake off was taken in some underhanded form, and that, as his witnesses had told straight stories which had not been shaken, the case should be dismissed.

Evidence of Good Character. B. J. Perry called the Court's attention to the fact that, as the police had notified all Chinatown gamblers requiring a rake-off for the house must cease, the continuance of the pastime with open doors was prima facie evidence of the good character of Dong How.

"It is unfortunate for the powers that be which strive to make this world a modern millenium, that the Gaming Act was drafted some thousand years after the invention and perfection by ingenious Chinamen of this game of Dong How," said Mr. Perry.

"The Act says playing a game where the bank goes around, where winning factors are partly skill and partly chance, where there is no rake-off to the house, is not an offence. Unfortunately for these people, and unfortunately for the men charged here, this game overcomes all these restrictions," he assured the Court.

City Prosecutor Harrison recalled a large number of divergences between the evidence of Mr. Perry, and that of the various Chinese witnesses called, and on these grounds he requested the court to ignore the fact that the prima facie case made out by the prosecution, "I am going to ask your Honor to disbelieve all this evidence, and to believe that the game of Dong How is not a game of chance, but a game of skill."

The Prosecution's Case. At yesterday's session of the Court further evidence was heard. Chief Fry stated that on March 3 he had sent around a manifesto, in which the operators of the domino game were told that they could no longer take a "rake off" and since that time none were supposed to play where there was such a rake off by "the house."

At this stage of the trial Chief Fry played a game of dominoes for the court at the request of W. A. Brethour, for the accused. The Chief's exposition of the game was correct, more or less, stated B. J. Perry later. Reading from the Act, Mr. Perry cross-examined the Chief.

"In your opinion in this game, in your limited experience, is not a bank kept by one or more players exclusively of the others, now is it?" "One man handles the money," returned the witness.

"How do you know it is not a rule of the game that the others can demand their turn at the bank?" continued Mr. Perry.

"One man keeps the bank until he is done," replied the witness.

"Are the chances equal," continued Mr. Perry, "and is there any percentage between the banker and the others?"

"If a game of chance," began the Chief.

COMMON IDEALS MUST BE UPHELD

British - America Bond Essential, Kiwanians Told

The common bonds of national idealism existing between the two great English speaking races must be further cemented; all old prejudices must be forgotten and an Anglo-American partnership set up which will save the world from future disaster, Lindley Crease, K.C., told the Kiwanians at to-day's luncheon at the Dominion Hotel.

Mr. Crease briefly outlined the purpose of the British-American League, which, he said, had been further justified in its existence by the remarks made here Saturday by Sir Auckland Geddes, Ambassador to the United States.

As this is Canadian Week with Kiwanians on the agenda, the speaker, J. W. Spencer, President of the Kiwanis, read a number of congratulatory messages in which the best of wishes for the growth and prosperity of Victoria's society were voiced.

"It is impossible to think of the two peoples as being separated without being impressed with all that friendship between the two countries means to civilization and the world's progress," said Mr. Crease.

The speaker referred to the national ideals, love of freedom tempered with justice and right being the foundation on which the ideals of the English speaking races were built.

From the small home of the British race the spirit of adventure had led the people forth, and the conquest was the present extensive overseas dominions encircling the world and constituting the great British Empire.

"Wherever people live under the British flag there free institutions are enjoyed. Society is regulated by the people, and the consequences there is every observance of human rights," said the speaker, who outlined the early settlement of the New World and the flood of British civilization across the entire continent.

A Common Language. "The English language in all this movement becomes the vehicle of expression of the highest ideals among the people of the world, and who come to live among us. New nations established on these principles in turn spread out and extend their sphere of influence."

The law laid down in the Bible and the teachings found therein were the basis on which British ideals were built. "The rights of others and respect for the rights of others is a basic principle of civilization," the speaker continued.

"We must promote amity among our people, and the world will depend on how we treat one another. Both are the repositories wherein are entrusted the ideals without which no nation can hope to grow."

The speaker, who was a member of the C. P. R., was standing up. Thomas Vlen, member for Lotbiniere, took exception to the remark. It was out of order, and further, it was wholly unfair. He was only anxious to be fair to the C. P. R., but was not otherwise interested.

Hon. J. B. M. Baxter said he had been guided by his commonsense when supporting the bill. He opposed the C. P. R. on various occasions, but he believed that its policies were wider than some of those who criticized it.

Dr. Manion, Fort William, demanded the retraction of the remark. Alfred Speakman felt the remark was not intended as a personal one. An amendment was moved by the C. P. R. to expunge fifteen per cent of the bond issue for the line within the first two years was also defeated. The bill was reported.

West Vancouver, April 4.—The shortage of ferry funds disclosed by Messrs. Crehan & Mout, who audited the books of W. H. Cook, former municipal employee, amounted to $2,861.50 in the matter of tickets. The shortage of exact change in the fare boxes of the ferries and municipal boxes was impossible to arrive at correctly. This was the gist of the official report read to the Council by Reeve Vineson.

Cook is now serving a year's sentence for the theft of ferry tickets worth some $100. At the time of his sentence it was expected that the alleged defalcations totalled much more than that.

Ottawa, April 4.—(Canadian Press)—The application of the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway Company for an extension of time in which to complete its line from Victoria to Duncan's Bay, on the east coast of Vancouver Island, met with sharp opposition in the Railway Committee this morning.

A. W. Neill, independent member for Comox-Alberni, moved that the proviso in the bill that the work must be commenced in two years and completed in five be reduced to "one year and three years."

The delay in completing this line was preventing development on Vancouver Island, he said.

Ottawa, April 4.—(Canadian Press)—The application of the Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway Company for an extension of time in which to complete its line from Victoria to Duncan's Bay, on the east coast of Vancouver Island, met with sharp opposition in the Railway Committee this morning.

A. W. Neill, independent member for Comox-Alberni, moved that the proviso in the bill that the work must be commenced in two years and completed in five be reduced to "one year and three years."

The delay in completing this line was preventing development on Vancouver Island, he said.

Colonel Thompson, counsel, said the company wanted to go ahead. It was really the Canadian Pacific Railway application and only thirty-six miles remained to be completed.

Several members took the stand that the Committee must prevent "blanket charters." Joseph Archambault, member for Chambly-Verchere, supported the original application. The Canadian Pacific Railway was evidently acting in good faith.

Promised. Mr. Neill said the railroad was part of the terms of Confederation and that it was time it was completed.

Alfred Speakman, member for Red Deer, said the interests of the Canadian Pacific Railway were being safeguarded, but it was time the people were considered.

The amendment was lost.

A Remark. When those supporting the original bill stood up someone called out to the "representatives of the C. P. R. were standing up."

Thomas Vlen, member for Lotbiniere, took exception to the remark. It was out of order, and further, it was wholly unfair. He was only anxious to be fair to the C. P. R., but was not otherwise interested.

TOLMIE URGES DRYDOCK WORK

Says Stoppage at Present Great Mistake

Member Gives Statement to Press in Ottawa

Ottawa, April 4.—(Canadian Press)—That there is considerable misunderstanding with regard to the exact condition of affairs in connection with the construction of a drydock at Esquimalt, B. C., is claimed by Hon. S. F. Tolmie, member for Victoria. In a statement to the Canadian Press, Dr. Tolmie says that over $1,125,000 has been expended on this work already, and that the contract price is $4,000,000. If work is stopped now, it is estimated that it will be necessary to pay the contractors damages to the extent of $1,500,000 and $2,000,000.

The present dock at Esquimalt, said Dr. Tolmie, "will only accommodate vessels of about 425 feet, and many of the trans-Pacific vessels are too large to be berthed there. Unless docking facilities are provided the tendency will be for these vessels to use American ports. With the Esquimalt dock completed, British Columbia firms will be able to compete for any work in the ship repairing line that may offer."

Quick Action. After referring to the keen efforts United States shipbuilders on the Pacific coast to obtain Canadian repairing trade, and the need for quick action by Canada, Dr. Tolmie concluded:

"This extra accommodation is badly needed and stoppage of this work at the present time will be nothing short of a calamity."

OPPOSES COLONIES EN BLOC IN NORTH

Fort Fraser Man Says They Should Be Distributed

J. P. Myers, secretary of the Fort Fraser Farmer's Institute, has arrived at the Parliament Buildings to protest to the Government against any scheme of placing "a solid anti-English block" of English settlers on the Stuart Lake lands north of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway as has been talked of for some time. Fort Fraser is near the Stuart Lake property.

Matters to do with community interests in the north were taken up by Mr. Myers with various ministers. P. H. Johnson, mayor of Prince George, has also come to Victoria in connection with the establishment of a creamery in his district, which is asked for in a long petition signed by residents which he brought with him.

Jews Arrange for Passover Great Festival Week Will Begin April 12

The Feast of Unleavened Bread, otherwise known as Passover, will begin this year on Wednesday, April 12, and will be observed by all Jewish people for a period of seven or eight days, according to their interpretation of the Biblical injunction in Exodus 23:14.

During the Passover week all Jewish families abstain from eating leaven in any form and in its stead use the Matzo, concluding the festival on April 19.

The first and last days are days of holy convocation. That is, services are held on these days in the synagogues. The evening of the first day of Passover is particularly important.

Seder Night. This evening is known in Jewish circles as "Seder Night." Its intent is to unite members of a household on the festive bond and there read together the ritual compiled for the occasion and known as the "Haggadah." This is a ritual which relates the story of the Children of Israel from Egypt and with many a quaint song and story revives memories of hardship in ancient days from which the people of Israel were delivered by a strong hand and an outstretched arm.

Passover. It will readily be seen reaches back to remote antiquity when it was observed by the Hebrew tribes in the dawn of history as an agricultural festival incident to Spring. At an early period in the history of these tribes they attained a degree of self-consciousness and associated historical events with their career.

Exodus from Egypt. The Passover was commemorated in this Pesach Feast. An entirely new content was invested in the feast which became a message of freedom and a memorial of deliverance from slavery and oppression.

Consecration to Jehovah. The festival of Pesach was used by the synagogues as a means of consecrating the Jewish home to God the Redeemer and Protector of Israel. The story of the deliverance of their forefathers from Egypt and slavery reminded the Jews of God's providential guidance and gave them confidence in the final redemption of all humanity from tyranny and injustice.

The Passover Feast is keyed to this dominant thought of liberty and redemption from bigotry, oppression and slavery. The importance of the feast lodges in the emphasis placed on the quality of freedom announced for all who are near or far away. Each one is to regard himself as if he came forth from the house of Egyptian bondage.

FUNDS TO ASSIST CANADIAN FARMERS

Estimates of Department of Agriculture Approved by Commons

Ottawa, April 4.—The civil government estimates of the Department of Agriculture, amounting to $640,750 for salaries and $135,000 for contingencies, were approved just before the House adjourned at 11 o'clock last night. The vote last year was $567,722.50 for salaries and $135,000 for contingencies.

Leon J. Ladner, Conservative, Vancouver South, asked whether it was the intention of the Government to continue the Act under which the importation and manufacture of oleomargarine was permitted.

Hon. W. R. Motherwell replied that he understood the Act in question would expire September 1, 1922. "As far as I am concerned, it may expire forever," he remarked, amid applause from the Progressive benches.

Mr. Ladner immediately rose and asked if it was the policy of the Government to prevent importation and manufacture of oleomargarine after the expiration of the Act.

The Minister replied that the Government had not considered the matter. He was merely speaking for himself.

Exhibitions. The question of grants to exhibitions was brought up. Mr. Motherwell said he had been informed that notice of a cut in the grants to exhibitions had been given six months or more ago. His own opinion was that all the money spent by the Department of Agriculture, the least direct value was got from these grants to exhibitions. However, if it was thought that sufficient notice had been given, the matter could be reconsidered in connection with the supplementary estimates.

C. P. R. EARNINGS. Montreal, April 4.—Canadian Pacific Railway earnings for the week ended March 31, 1922 were $4,348,000, a decrease of $482,000.

PAID TRIBUTE TO AMERICANS

After All, Mrs. Asquith Found
They Had Commendable Qualities

New York, April 4.—More than a thousand fashionable New Yorkers who crowded the grand ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria last night to hear Margot Asquith's final verdict on the United States and Americans, were surprised to find that, after all, she thought the United States a fine country and Americans as a whole mighty nice folk.

The noted Briton—wife of a former Prime Minister and author of one of the frankest series of pen pictures of eminent Britishers that country has ever read—poked a little fun at American "culture chasers" and dollar-chasers; twitted them a bit about prohibition laws that do not prohibit, and spoke a bit of her mind about messy factories and outdoor billboards that clutter up American scenery.

But she ended with a fervid tribute to the United States—her "America's great President; her fine Government; her vital, generous citizenry," and urged the nurturing of stronger bonds between Great Britain and the United States.

"What could we not do if we stood together?" she exclaimed. "One country could do—we could make it very difficult to have another war."

PLAN TO REVISE AGRICULTURE ACT

Ottawa Government Appoints
Duncan Marshall a Commissioner

Ottawa, April 4.—The appointment of Duncan Marshall, former Minister of Agriculture of Alberta, as a commissioner of the Department of Agriculture was challenged by the Leader of the Opposition when the discussion of the estimates of the Department of Agriculture was resumed in the House last night.

Mr. Meighen asserted that in this appointment the Civil Service Commission had been over-ruled and an office filled which it was not thought necessary to fill by the late administration. In addition, the salary fixed for the position by the Civil Service Commission had been increased by $1,800, from $2,200 to $4,000. This was the same salary as paid to the Deputy Minister, and the country had the spectacle of the Deputy Minister and the Commissioner giving out diametrically opposite statements on departmental affairs.

To Revise Act. Hon. W. M. Motherwell, Minister of Agriculture, said the Minister had under consideration a revision of the Agricultural Instruction Act, under which $1,100,000 had been granted annually to the provinces. This Act would expire in March, 1923, and Mr. Marshall had been appointed a commissioner to make an investigation, and not to the older office of "Commissioner of Agriculture."

Hon. T. A. Cresswell asked if the position then were not permanent.

"No," replied Mr. Motherwell. "How long will it last?" asked the Progressive Leader.

"Six months," replied Mr. Motherwell.

Mr. Meighen wanted to know whether Mr. Marshall had visited the Southern United States on public business.

Mr. Motherwell stated that Mr. Marshall's visit to Florida had been in the interests of the Department of the Interior, in connection with immigration. It also was proposed to send him and Mr. Dryden to South America to develop a market for Canadian purebred stock.

Mr. Meighen asked if Mr. Marshall's trip to Florida was chiefly for the purpose of selling purebred stock or to encourage immigration. He was afraid Mr. Marshall would not have much time in his six months of office to study the Agricultural Instruction Act.

Livestock Sold. R. B. Hanson, Conservative, York-Sunbury, wanted to know whether Mr. Marshall was engaged in forwarding his own business interests when looking for a market for purebred stock.

The Minister replied that he understood Mr. Marshall had sold his livestock.

G. A. Bretherton, East Peterboro, New Brunswick, someone specially interested in dairy animals, had heard in the deputation which went to South America. This suggestion was further pressed on the Minister by Hon. S. F. Toimie, former Minister of Agriculture.

NOT ASKED TO TRANSFER FISHERIES

Federal Government Not Pressed by British Columbia

Ottawa, April 4.—That no request had been made for a transfer of the control of the British Columbia fisheries to that province, was a statement made in the House yesterday afternoon by Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, in replying to W. G. McQuarrie, Conservative member for New Westminster. As these fisheries cost $400,000 a year to administer, it was not likely that the province would seek the transfer, Mr. Lapointe added.

On a motion of Hon. Charles Maclellan, Bonaventure, the House heard the long, involved story of the fishery dispute between the Federal Government and the Province of Quebec. The dispute is one harking back over forty years, and was only recently terminated by the passage of an Order-in-Council by the Federal Government transferring the Quebec fisheries to the province.

Hon. Ernest Lapointe, who outlined the history of the dispute, held that the transfer had not involved any giving away of rights. The Federal Government could still regulate.

GET THEIR PAPER
FROM CANADA

Americans Drawing on Eastern
Pulp Supplies

Quebec, April 4.—Pointing out that there are exported every year from the Province of Quebec nearly a million cords of pulpwood cut from freehold property, which means that 10,000 acres of forest lands are cleared every year for the benefit of American mills, Hon. L. A. Taschereau, Premier of Quebec, in an interview here yesterday, asked:

"What would the Americans do if the Ottawa Government were to prevent them from getting their supplies from the paper mills in Canada?"

The Premier was commenting on the Fordney tariff and high freight rates against Canada on American railways. If the United States persisted in raising barriers against Canadian products, he asked if the Federal Government would not be prompted to levy an export duty on pulpwood cut from private lands?

"In the face of such an attitude, there is reason to ask if Ottawa will agree with the classified ads and conflict of the United States," he added.

DISCUSS RAILWAY ELECTRIFICATION

Commons Hears Views; No
National Outlay at Present

Ottawa, April 4.—Dr. Herman Deslauriers, Liberal member for St. Mary, Montreal, pressed on the House yesterday afternoon the necessity of electrifying Canadian Government railways "on all lines where electric power is available."

Every country which had tried electrification, he argued, had found it successful. Such a scheme in Canada would help reduce the deficit on the National Railways and would do away with the need of much of the coal now imported from south of the line. With electrification, Canada would also save much of the $50,000,000 which was now lost through forest fires, many of which were caused by sparks from passing railway engines.

The initial expense of electrification would be large, but there would be economy in the operation.

Hon. W. C. Kennedy, Minister of Railways and Canals, said the management of the Canadian National Railways was keenly alive to the importance of the question. It felt, however, that to electrify large portions of the system at present would involve a very great expenditure, which the country was not warranted in assuming.

The resolution was withdrawn.

MILITARY SERVICE ACT OF 1917 IS DECLARED DEAD

Ottawa, April 4.—The Military Act of 1917 is dead. The Prime Minister, the Leader of the Opposition and the Speaker of the House last night united in pronouncing its obsequies.

J. S. Woodsworth, Labor member for Winnipeg Centre, had a bill to repeal the Act. There was some doubt, he argued, whether it was operative or not. If it were dead, it should at least be given a decent burial.

Mr. Woodsworth spoke but a few minutes. He was followed by Premier King, who read legal opinions in support of his contention that the Act was dead and not again to be invoked.

Mr. King intimated that had the Act been still operative the Government would have been only too glad to act on the repealing bill, but the Act was dead.

A subsequent speech by Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Leader of the Opposition, led to a sharp encounter. Mr. Meighen contended that the Act was inapplicable to any war but the past war. But he complained, the fact that it had not been repealed had been used as the basis for bitter assault during the election campaign against members of his administration.

Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Marine, retorted that members of the Meighen Cabinet had attacked Liberals because the Military Act had not been repealed.

The debate gave evidence of being protracted, but the Speaker brought it to an abrupt close. He had taken legal advice, and was of the opinion that the Act was dead. Hence it could not be repealed.

VANCOUVER IS MECCA OF COAST ROTARY MEMBERS

Vancouver, April 4.—The opening of the annual conference of the Pacific Northwest Rotary District brought together more than 2,000 delegates from both sides of the international boundary yesterday.

Features of the first day's activities were the Pageant of Nations, an address by Vice-President Ralph Cummings, who represents the executive body, and an address on "Unemployment, Cause and Cure," by Dean Miller, of the University of Washington.

"When business men and Governments learn to look into the future in terms of years, and not weeks, and when laborers lose their fear that their jobs will not last, unemployment and hard times will be for ever banned," declared Dean Miller.

Rev. G. O. Falls appealed to all Rotarians to promote international friendship. No two countries were closer in friendship than Canada and the United States, but there was still some ignorance and prejudice in both countries to be uprooted.

Mountain lions have never been known before North of the Lillooet-Bella Coola line. Mr. Kermode explained, Cypress Creek is 300 miles North of this line.

Royal Dairy Ice Cream Is Carbonated

Healthized Process Patented

Purer or Better Ice Cream
Can't Be Made

When we heard of the newly discovered process for making carbonated ice cream we immediately investigated it. We have always made the finest ice cream money, brains and the purest ingredients can produce.

We knew the error of freezing ice cream in common air, which is never perfectly pure. So when we learned that a scientist had discovered a way to freeze ice cream in a sterile, pure, germ-free atmosphere we knew we had solved the greatest problem of ice cream sanitation.

We secured the rights to manufacture ice cream under the carbonated process. It is an expensive method, but it adds a maximum of safety to ice cream and, incidentally, it makes a much more delicious ice cream, richer, more flavorful.

When you buy our Royal Dairy Carbonated Ice Cream for the kids, YOU KNOW IT IS SUPER-PURE.

Insist that your dealer provide it. He can get it if he hasn't it already.

How Many Objects in this Picture Begin with the Letter "S"? There are all sorts of things that begin with the letter "S," like saw, sword and stamp. Look at the picture and you will see lots more, and in a few minutes' time you will be surprised how large your list will grow. Get your whole family to hunt for them. See who can find the most; maybe it will be grandma, or then again it might be little brother. Nothing is hidden and you don't have to turn this picture upside-down or at an angle. Fifteen cash prizes will be given for the fifteen best lists of words submitted and the person sending in the largest and nearest correct list of visible objects in the picture starting with the letter "S" will be awarded First Prize; second best, Second Prize, etc.

Costs Nothing to Try Lots of Fun for All It is not a subscription contest, and you don't have to send in a single subscription to win a Big Prize, the "S-Word" Game has no rival as a home pastime. Why? That's easy to answer. Because it is a game that everyone can enjoy, regardless of age or education, and all the family can gather around the table together and share in the fun. The best way to convince yourself is to try it, and you will have to admit it is the most entertaining game you have ever taken part in.

EASY TO WIN $1200—HERE'S HOW If your answer to the "S-Word" Picture Puzzle wins First Prize, and you have sent in no subscriptions to The Vancouver Daily World, you will win $25. However, if your answer wins First Prize, and you have sent in ONE 6-months subscription to The Vancouver Daily World—either new or renewal—YOU WILL WIN $400 in place of $25. Or, if your answer is awarded First Prize by the Judges, and you have sent in TWO 6-months or ONE yearly subscription to The Vancouver Daily World—either new or renewal—YOU WILL RECEIVE $1200 instead of $25.

Now's that for a liberal offer? But, look. We will give extra amounts on all prizes in the same manner. If your answer is qualified by TWO 6-months or ONE yearly subscription—either new or renewal—and you are awarded Second Prize, you will receive $500, and so on down. (See third column in the list of prizes.) It takes but TWO 6-months or ONE yearly subscription—either new or renewal—to qualify for the big $1200 prize. ABSOLUTELY. TWO 6-months or ONE yearly is the maximum. Your own subscription will count, and we will accept subscriptions to start at any future date.

THE WELSHMAN WINS.

Although yesterday's vote in the British House of Commons does not impart one iota of additional promise of success to the Genoa Conference it has cleared the political atmosphere in Great Britain and must be accepted as a personal triumph for Mr. Lloyd George. The course followed by the Prime Minister may not have conformed to the usual constitutional practices as closely as such a course should have done under conditions less extraordinary. Confidence in himself or in his Government as a whole was not challenged by the Opposition and the peculiar test to which he did actually subject himself and his colleagues would have been stripped of its significance if he had not declared to the House at the outset of the discussion that the defeat of his motion, or the passage of any one of the amendments, would be interpreted as his own and his Government's dismissal from office.

Mr. Lloyd George would lay claim to nothing new in his pronouncement upon international affairs and their relationship with the Genoa Conference. He has maintained for months past that it would be in the best interests of European peace if Russia could be persuaded to deal honestly with her neighbors and give such guarantees as would inspire confidence in her. He did not depart from that attitude at any time during his peroration yesterday afternoon. His appreciation of French interest in any new relations that may be established between Soviet Russia and the Allied world found expression in his belief that, while nothing could be gained by waiting for the overthrow of the present Administration at Moscow, he would accept the view of France to the extent that the Soviet authorities should supply the requisite guarantees with respect to Russia's debts before a full form of political recognition should be countenanced.

But the chief argument in favor of recognizing the existing Government in Russia seemed to be found in the Prime Minister's desire to bring peace to Europe by destroying the suspicion which will exist as long as the "red" army remains the chief excuse for keeping other armies at a standard that is not warranted by actual conditions. In other words it would appear that Mr. Lloyd George is satisfied that the Genoa Conference cannot be a success unless it shall be conducted with a sufficiently liberal outlook as to recognize the case of Russia in all its aspects and abide by everything that such a condition would seem to imply.

The average individual will argue on the information which history has provided. He will agree that as long as the "red" army of Russia prevents the advent of goodwill among the nations of Europe there is no hope for economic rehabilitation. He will wonder why the subject of reparations cannot be discussed at Genoa—why Treaties that were made three years ago under circumstances altogether different from those which now exist should not be subjected to review without danger to interests that should be protected to the last ditch—if the virtual disarmament of Russia in more than the military sense shall contribute to the improvement of Germany's condition and enable her to pay her bill.

Can the Prime Minister avoid the discussion of Treaties and reparations with Russian delegates sitting beside him after he has asked them to earn the reward they are obviously seeking? Can political recognition of Russia and the provision of the guarantees that will be demanded be divorced from Germany's present attitude towards her debts or France's method of exacting their payment? It would seem that these questions will obtrude before the gathering gets far under way.

THE DRYDOCK.

To-morrow's meeting of citizens representing all the organizations of Victoria will probably decide to send a delegation to Ottawa for the purpose of urging the Dominion Government to reconsider its decision to discontinue work on the drydock. Unless something more definite shall be received from the national capital in the meantime there would appear to be no other course as good as a face to face discussion between representative Victorians and the Federal Cabinet. Long range negotiations on a matter of such vital concern to this neighborhood have not much force. By the time such a delegation shall have reached Ottawa it will have been possible for the Prime Minister and his colleagues to deal with the question from every angle. Dr. King has already intimated that the matter is receiving serious consideration at the hands of the Government. None the less a delegation would be in a position to deal with all the various arguments that will be presented. And it should go to Ottawa armed with material that will convert those members of the Cabinet who are considerably less than enthusiastic about the project.

PREMIER MARTIN.

Although he is in the prime of life and in the full enjoyment of political eminence as the Premier of Saskatchewan it would not be surprising if Mr. Martin were to exchange the responsibilities of the office which he has occupied with success and distinction since 1916 for the less exacting role of a Judge of the Court of Appeal in his own Province. His administration of public affairs in Saskatchewan has stood the test of two general elections since he took up the duties which failing health compelled the Hon. Walter Scott to relinquish. He has the distinction of being the only Premier in the three Prairie Provinces who has not succumbed to the new political wave which has shaken the party rocks of this country in more Provinces than one. This particular survival can be traced to the fact that Mr. Martin has always been able to read the signs of the times and recognize the attitude of his own people. Should he elect to retire to that eminence of legal seclusion to which his earlier training might have beckoned him before he succumbed to the lure of national politics he will be missed by the party to which he has always given unserving support. It is a matter of history that only his departure from the Federal arena to accept the position which he now occupies virtually excluded him from the running for the Liberal leadership.

THE TEST CASE.

Victoria has had an opportunity of testing the efficacy of a recent civic ordinance in relation to the observance of the Lord's Day Act and it has discovered that fifty-three stores remained open. This number represents something like two-thirds of the establishments which have been accustomed to doing business on Sunday. The names of the offenders were taken by the officers of the law and if the Attorney-General of the Province can be persuaded to give his consent to their prosecution the cases will be dealt with in the Police Court in due course. We are not in a position to express an opinion as to whether that official will conform to the wishes of a majority of the three Police Commissioners. It is only permissible to observe at this stage that it looks as if the issuance of a civic ordinance is one thing and its observance another.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Lord Beaverbrook has started a crusade against the "tyranny of puritanism" which seeks to abolish the Grand National in Great Britain on the plea that it involves cruelty to horses. And Lord Beaverbrook "is a son of the manse."

The Seattle Rotary Club believes that "an understanding heart is a greater civilization than a standing army." That's the sort of stuff the world should consume.

Mr. Lloyd George told the House of Commons yesterday that he had been "pelted with crises" for the last two or three weeks. Another little crisis hasn't done him any harm.

Labor's amendment to the British Prime Minister's motion yesterday did not seem to be backed up by a general instruction to members of Parliament to stop the career of the little Welshman.

LETTERS

ENFORCE THE LAW.

To the Editor.—Now that we have to walk the straight and narrow path on Sunday as decreed by that august body, the Victoria Board of Police Commissioners, subject, however, to the consent of the Attorney-General, would it not be well to have a strict and rigid enforcement of all laws? It is with considerable hesitation that I direct the attention of said Board to the fact that indictable offences have been committed in the city for a long period of time and apparently no effort has been made to bring the guilty parties to trial. In the first place I refer to eavesdropping, or the offence committed by such as listen under walls or windows or the eaves of houses to hear after discourse and thereupon to frame slanderous and malicious tales. This is an indictable offence and the offender is liable to be fined and bound over for good behavior. Do the court records show any such offence.

I assert without fear of contradiction that a common scold or communis rixatrix, as she is called in the deceased language, has never been prosecuted in the city police court, whether it is through ignorance of the law or an act of chivalry I am unable to say. For the information of a few who may not be familiar with the offence I may state that a "common scold" is a troublesome and angry woman who by brawling or wrangling amongst her neighbors breaks the peace, increases discord and becomes a public nuisance to the neighborhood. Most remarkable that it is confined to the feminine gender. This is also an indictable offence and the offender is placed in a certain engine of correction called the trebuchet or ducking stool, and when so placed she is plunged in the water for punishment. As the Council do not know what to do with the span of the E. and N. bridge, would it not be advisable for the Police Commissioners to make application for same, erect it in front of the James Bay causeway, assemble the necessary plant for a trebuchet or ducking stool and thereby be in a position to deal with the common scold, and in case of a conviction of the offence as above set forth.

In justice to Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith, who is the mother of considerable legislation for the benefit of women and children, I must state that she had nothing whatever to do with the enactment of this ancient law and it is not a breach of confidence when I allege that it was in force at least a considerable period of time before that estimable lady's birth.

showed itself fully cognizant of the above facts.

(5) The strength of such action capital and labor on a large scale were concentrated, both directly and indirectly on this work.

(6) That prolonged suspension of work must result in direct loss to capital already heavily invested, and withdrawal from the workers that security of employment which a contract definitely entered into by a responsible government as far back as December 1920 would have seemed to have guaranteed.

With the content hope that such sums may be included in an emergency vote and the supplementary estimates as will ensure immediate and continuous construction. This letter was signed on behalf of the Association by John A. I. French, president; John A. Murray, vice-president, and W. Miller Higgs, secretary.

us get our road," said one of the women in the delegation as she opened the door to leave the Premier's office at the end of the interview.

TWENTY FAMILIES TAKE UP FARMS

111 Adult and Young British-ers Reach Canada

St. John, N.S., April 4.—One of the most pleasing and encouraging sights at the disembarkation from the Canadian Pacific Railway liner Montcalm on her arrival here to-day from Liverpool was a land party of 111, who are to make their homes in Canada. It was a prize party and one attracting attention as well as calling forth most favorable comment. There were twenty families in the group. One family was composed of nine, another of eight and another of five. The head of each family was a stalwart, the mother prudent-looking and the children healthy and wholesome. They are all Britishers, brought up on the farm and are no experiments. They are of the class Canada is inviting. They arrived in Canada well supplied with means to carry on their cash possessions ranged from $4,500 to $18,000, thus giving some idea of the solid class of citizenship Canada is welcoming to her shores.

The party is accompanied by A. M. Hill, attaché to the office of the Canadian Pacific Railway's Department of Colonization and Development, who will see his charges through and assist them in the arrival of the party here. Capt. Andrew Macduff, travelling colonization agent, was so pleased with their appearance that he had a photographer send them snapped. They left for the West.

NO PROVISION FOR TRIAL OF PAPER

Conviction of London Daily Mirror Company Quashed

London, April 4.—(Canadian Press Cable)—A flaw in the Grand Jury Compensation Act resulted in the Court of Appeal yesterday quashing the conviction of The Daily Mirror Company and upholding the appeal. The contention that it was impossible, under this act, to incorporate for trial, Justice Shearman said the men who had drawn up the act in question had forgotten all about corporations and left a little hole through which The Daily Mirror was able to creep. The point, however, he said, did not affect the general law regarding corporations.

The Daily Mirror, which is chiefly owned by Viscount Rothermere, a younger brother of Lord Northcliffe, was fined £100 on March 3 because during the Liverpool election it published posters in the constituency advocating the election of Rear-Admiral Murray Sueter and the cost of the posters was not included in the statement of his election expenses. It was urged on behalf of the defence that the posters were issued, not to influence the election, but merely to increase the paper's circulation. Notice of appeal was given at the time by the newspaper.

SAYS THOUSANDS READY TO FARM

Britishers Arriving in Canada Speaks of Immigration

St. John, N. R., April 4.—If the Canadian Government would bestir itself and act as though it really desired to attract British farmers to these shores and settle upon its lands there are thousands who would flock hither and take up farming. Such was the opinion expressed by A. B. Duffy, who arrived from Liverpool to-day aboard the Canadian Pacific Railway liner Montcalm.

"There is keen competition going on," he said, "for the British farmer. Australia and New Zealand are offering all kinds of inducements for the farmer to go and settle upon their lands and because of these inducements they are securing the best. There is considerable complaint against Canada's immigration laws, which place a severe handicap on the British farmer when he reaches these shores. If Canada would hold out inducements such as are offered by Australia and New Zealand there would be thousands of farmers flocking here where now they are coming only in small lots and at a sacrifice."

"Farming in England has seen its best days. Farming is a dead issue there; the farmers must seek new homes and they will naturally go where the best inducements are offered. I can honestly say Canada has the preference, but many farmers are turned away from here by the stringency of your immigration laws. If you want the pick of British farmers in Canada," concluded Mr. Duffy, "you should show it by lightening the burdens you now place on those arriving on your shores."

MARY GARDEN IS OFFERED $250,000 FOR CONCERTS

San Francisco, April 4.—Mary Garden, director and prima donna of the Chicago Grand Opera Company, which is appearing here, has received from Charles L. Wagner, her former manager, an offer of $250,000 for a season's concert tour, and if the opera company would keep her it must meet the figure, according to a statement accredited to Miss Garden's secretary by The Chronicle to-day.

OFFICIAL VISITING FROM ANTIGUA

Dr. C. M. Rolston Formerly Practised on Island

Victoria has as a visitor at the present time Dr. Cecil M. Rolston, a member of the Legislative Council of Antigua, one of the five presidencies of the Leeward Islands group. Dr. Rolston, who is accompanied by Mrs. Rolston, formerly practised at Duncan, and later moved to the British West Indies. In Antigua he has charge of the public institutions from a medical standpoint.

St. John's, the largest city on the island, and capital of the Crown Colony, is the home city of Dr. Rolston, and is closely bound up commercially with the welfare of the staple industries of the island, sugar and cotton.

From his official position Dr. Rolston is disinclined to comment on the political and industrial situation created by the decline in demand for tropical products created by after-war conditions.

Dr. Rolston is appreciative of the scenic and other attractions of the islands where he has made his home, and where many interesting historical associations link the islands with the buccannery of the seventeenth century and the English seamen of the eighteenth century.

The West Indies were the scene of many naval battles in the Napoleonic wars. St. Antigua, English Harbor was used by Nelson. The island of Nevis is of historical interest on account of the fact that Nelson was married to the Governor's niece, Mrs. Nisbet. The church at Fig Tree has the registration of their marriage. Nevis was also the birthplace of Alexander Hamilton, first Secretary of the Treasury of the United States. Dr. Rolston expects the return to the West Indies on the conclusion of his leave. The loss is covered by insurance.

SIR ARTHUR CURRIE COMMENDS CHAPTER

Sends Donation to Florence Nightingale Chapter for Sun Room

A congratulatory letter together with a donation from Sir Arthur Currie towards the sun-room project for the tubercular ward at the Provincial Royal Jubilee Hospital gave much satisfaction to the members of the Florence Nightingale Chapter, I. O. D. E., at its meeting yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. H. K. Prior, convenor in charge of this particular effort, gave an excellent report of the progress of the sun-room and read Sir Arthur's letter which commended the work, stating that no one knew better than he the practical sympathy shown to the returned man by the I. O. D. E. A generous donation to the fund was also received from the Lady Alderson Chapter, I. O. D. E.

Mr. Fletcher also kindly donated twenty-four records for the gramophone, and the much-appreciated offer of Mr. Miller to donate the proceeds of a G. W. V. Band Concert, to be held some Saturday evening soon, was accepted with pleasure.

Through the untiring efforts of Mrs. Baker and Mrs. Prior much has been done to beautify the grounds surrounding the T. B. ward, and Mrs. Porter's work as convenor of the weekly teas was much appreciated by the members.

The Chapter passed a resolution endorsing the efforts being made on behalf of the sub-normal children of the city. Mrs. Hunter appealed for flowers for the decoration of the soldiers' graves at Easter. Mrs. Seabrook Young reported two lavettes made up and sent out to two needy cases.

Mrs. H. F. Crowe, the regent, presided at the meeting and was appointed the Chapter's delegate to attend the annual meeting of the Provincial Chapter at New Westminster on April 27 and 28.

FOUR CHERNIAVSKYS ARE NATURALIZED

Well-known Musicians Became Canadian Citizens Yesterday

Six years' residence in Canada and two in England were yesterday in Vancouver County Court submitted as entitling the four Cherniavsky brothers, Jan, Leo, Alexander and Michel, to Canadian citizenship. Judge Grant recommended the quartette to the secretary of state for naturalization certificates.

The brothers, whose residential address was stated to be 1531 Davie Street, were described in their applications for naturalization as "concert artists." They were born in the village of Ekaterinoslav, Ukraine, Russia, and resided two years in London, two in Winnipeg and four in Vancouver.

Their sponsors were Mrs. B. T. Rogers and Rev. Harold G. King. Mr. H. S. Wood appeared for the brothers.

MYSTERIOUS LIFE OF ACTRESS-HERMIT

Former English Celebrity Found in Cobweb-draped House

London, April 4.—Why should a beautiful and talented woman who had once enjoyed the glitter and tinsel of the footlights and the roar of popular applause adopt the life of a recluse in a deserted house whose rooms were draped with huge cobwebs?

That is the mystery of Miss Amy Howard, who has just been removed from a semi-detached house in East Road, where she had lived for years in complete seclusion. She is now about fifty years old. Less than twenty years ago she was one of the stars of light opera and musical comedy, a great favorite with audiences on account of her beautiful voice and talent as an actress.

She quitted the stage at a time when her mother was very ill and came to live at Kingston. The mother died just before the war. Previous to that Miss Howard was often to be seen driving a tandem pair of high-spirited mares through the streets. But after the funeral of her mother, the former theatrical star shut herself up, completely in her house.

White Robe Figure. When the Poor Law authorities entered the house they found the ceilings and walls festooned with great cobwebs. Thick coats of dust covered everything. On a shelf was a pile of banknotes in an old cardboard box, all bearing numbers that were issued twenty years ago. Beneath them was a layer of golden sovereigns totalling £200, likewise shrouded with the accumulated dust of years. In the drawing-room hung a beautiful portrait of Miss Howard as she appeared in her twenties.

Often at all hours of the day and night neighbors would hear the strains of old musical comedy melodies issuing from the desolate house for although Miss Howard is now nearly 50 her voice remains almost unimpaired. She always left little tickets to be seen, but occasionally her white-robed figure could be glimpsed flitting like a ghost in the twilight through the garden at the rear of the house.

A Silent Woman. She was a "silent woman," too. It is said that no tradesman ever saw her. She always left little tickets on her door giving her orders, and hers bills were always paid by cheques.

Some of the furs found in profusion in the rooms are valued at hundreds of pounds, and many of the oil paintings, almost obscured by dust are said to be valuable. There are also boxes of gloves and beautifully woven underwear in various parts of the house. Miss Howard's only companion in the house was a ferret.

The reason for this change in her existence remains unknown, and at present Miss Howard is in too weak a state to be questioned upon the matter.

At the monthly meeting of the Protestant Home committee yesterday afternoon, the vice-president, Mrs. Hisecks, presided in the absence of Mrs. McTavish, who was still ill to attend the meeting. The following members of committee were present: Mesdames Walker, Seaworth, Brown, Board, Jenkinson, Cameron, Lang, Fraser, Spencer, Hayward, Wilkerson, Bradshaw and Sherwood.

The visiting committee reported that Mrs. Street was appointed assistant matron at the home to succeed Mrs. Tripp, who left recently for the North, and Miss Richards will fill the vacancy in the sewing room created by the retirement of Miss Shaw.

The committee wishes to acknowledge the following donations which were received during March: Cloverdale, 100-lb. sack of sugar; Mrs. Johnson, clothing; Miss A. Saunders, a picture; Young People of St. Sav-lour's Church, records; Harry Maynard, 100-lb. sack of sugar; box of soap, and case of jam; Margaret Rocke Robertson Chapter, I. O. D. E., cake and sandwiches; Mrs. Andrew Stewart, clothing; Captain Clarke, two boxes of apples and toys; Fair-field Methodist Church, cake; Knights of Pythias Lodge, cake; Hudson's Bay Athletic organization, cake; Mrs. G. A. McTavish, box of apples; Bailey, Laxton and Pooley, cake; Mrs. W. Spencer, large box of oranges; Mrs. McLeod, three dozen eggs; Mrs. Cranford, one gallon of milk; Finlayson's Grocery, three boxes of apples; Victoria Circle of the King's Daughters, nine pinafores; Mrs. Bryant and Lewis Hall, professional services, and The Colonist and Times.

Mr. O. A. De Graw, of Peterboro, is registered at the Empress Hotel.

The Happiest Time of Her Life

Admiration, attention—groups of eager young men awaiting her appearance and more partners than she can dance with—this makes girlhood days the happiest time of a woman's life.

To miss this popularity is a tragedy. Yet many girls are socially unsuccessful because of some lack in charm.

What constitutes this charm is hard to define—but one thing is certain. The popular girl, the successful girl, the gay, happy, all-admired girl, is always distinguished by a fresh, radiant skin.

How to have this perfect complexion is the problem of many girls, but we can solve it for you. It's a simple secret, discovered many thousands years ago.

What spoils complexions

Every day your skin accumulates a coating of dust, dirt and general soil. Every day you apply powder, and every day most women use a little or much cold cream.

This dirt, powder and cold cream penetrates the tiny skin pores and fills them. Perspiration completes the clogging. You can judge for yourself what happens if you fail to wash these accumulations away.

Once a day your skin needs careful, thorough cleansing to remove these clogging deposits. Otherwise you will soon be afflicted with coarseness, blackheads and blotches.

How soap beautifies

Mild, pure, soothing soap, such as Palmolive, is a simple yet certain beautifier. Its profuse, creamy lather penetrates the network of skin pores and dissolves all dangerous deposits. Gentle rinsing carries them away.

When your skin is thus cleansed, it quickly responds with fresh, smooth radiance. The healthful stimulation results in natural becoming color. And the lotion-like qualities of the Palmolive lather keeps your complexion delightfully soft.

Now, when your skin is healthfully clean, is the time to apply cold cream. Now, powder and that touch of rouge are harmless. You can perfect your good complexion and beauty one not so good by the means of this simple cosmetic cleansing.

Cleopatra's way

With all classic peoples, bathing was a daily rite never neglected. The ruins of Cleopatra's sumptuous marble bath are ample proof of her faith in this ancient beauty secret.

Palm and olive oils were the cleansers used—the same bland oriental oils we blend scientifically in Palmolive. The lotion-like qualities which made them the most highly prized of all old world beautifiers are imparted to Palmolive Soap.

A low-cost luxury

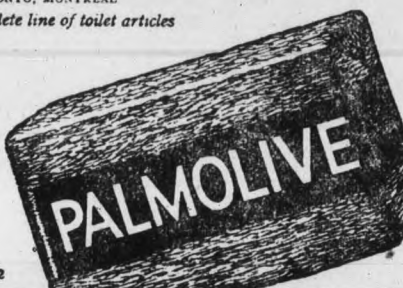

The vast volume in which we produce Palmolive to supply the world-wide demand naturally lowers cost. If made in small quantities the price would be at least 25 cents. Manufacturing economy permits us to offer this finest facial soap at a low price.

Thus you can afford to share Cleopatra's favorite luxury. Use Palmolive for bathing and let it do for your body what it does for your face.

FOR CHILDREN THE SANDMAN STORY FOR T-O-N-I-G-H-T

MR. FOX TALKS HIMSELF OUT OF A DINNER

Mr. Fox was asked to do the carving and he really had had more experience with birds than the others, although he was a guest.

He had talked so much about bad carving and how it hurt his feelings to see a beautiful big turkey, brown and handsome, spoiled by one who did not know the art of handling the carving knife and fork, that poor Mr. Possum, who was the host, did not dare attempt it himself.

Mr. Coon had no wish to show off and anyway he knew nothing about carving and Jack Rabbit only came to the dinner because he was promised a dish of salad.

He did not care for turkeys and he did not care what happened to it so he kept quiet, and Mr. Squirrel, who had his mind on the nut soup and pie, wished something would happen to the turkey as soon as he finished his soup so the pie could sooner be brought to the table.

So when Mr. Possum asked Mr. Fox to do the carving he smiled sweetly and said he would be glad to do the best he could though, if he did say it, there were few who knew as much about the joints in birds as he did.

But all the time he was thinking very hard for he did not care for anything that was to be served but that big brown turkey and he knew he could eat the whole of it without the least trouble. But how to get it? That was the question.

"Where did you get this fine bird?" Mr. Possum told him that this big turkey was easily caught because it didn't seem to know where to go so he chased it into his yard and there he had it.

picious to me, my dear Possum, that so large a bird should have been so easily captured and I am wondering if it had not been poisoned by some cruel farmer hoping some of us wood folks would eat it and be sick; perhaps die."

Mr. Fox sharpened the knife faster as he looked around the table to see how Mr. Possum and Mr. Coon took this suggestion, and he was pleased to notice they looked very uncomfortable.

"I have known farmers to do such things to rid the neighborhood of some of our friends, and I have seen great suffering caused by eating a bird that was not quite well. Are you sure, friend Possum, that this fine health when you captured it?" Mr. Possum did not reply. He was looking at the turkey with anxious eyes and, by the time Mr. Fox had carved it, shaking his head all the time, as if in doubt as to its being good, Mr. Possum said he wasn't feeling a bit well and asked his guests to excuse him.

Mr. Fox heaped a plate with turkey and passed it to Mr. Coon. "Are you willing to risk eating some of this bird?" he asked. But Mr. Coon did not take the plate. He held his head and ran out saying he was quite ill.

"Well, well, that is too bad," said Mr. Fox to the remaining guests who did not eat turkey. "We must do justice to Mr. Possum's fine dinner by eating his share, and Mr. Coon's as well as our own."

Mr. Fox heaped his plate but he did not eat for he had talked so much about bad turkeys and poisoned birds that he had quite lost his appetite and in a few minutes he told Mr. Squirrel and Mr. Rabbit he felt a pain in his back and would have to leave them.

"That shows that the kind of food we eat is the only safe food," said Mr. Rabbit. "I have eaten all the salad and I feel as well as I did when I sat down."

"So do I," said Mr. Squirrel, "and I have finished the soup and pie. Meat eaters are always worrying. I can't understand why every one isn't a vegetarian."

"Neither can I," answered Mr. Rabbit as they ran off home.

"I wish," said little Elsie, who was never washed, "that I need never, never have to be washed again."

"I'm afraid," said mamma, gently, "that as long as you have me to take care of you, you'll have to reconcile yourself to being washed very thor-

SMOKING CONCERT FOR MOOSE FRIDAY

A smoking concert, under the auspices of Victoria Lodge 1390 Loyal Order of Moose, was held in the Caledonia Hall, on Friday evening.

About 200 members and their friends were in attendance, and a splendid programme was thoroughly enjoyed. The entertainment opened with an exhibition of boxing by Jumbo and Albo Davies, the dustweight winner, and their effort was greatly applauded.

Brother F. T. J. Merryfield mystified the audience with his sleight of hand and card tricks, and Tom Obee was in great form and gave two clever numbers. Two recitations by Mr. Shouldice were well rendered and hand and card tricks, and Tom Obee were highly applauded.

Brother Dan Wallace at the piano was in great form, and proved a very capable accompanist. Short speeches were made by Brother D. S. Tait and Brother C. E. Copeland, the former in connection with the Walla Walla campaign, and the latter on "Mooseheart."

The committee and their co-workers are to be congratulated on the success achieved, and good results are anticipated both in regard to the campaign and new members.

SIXTY MILLION TREES PLANTED

The shipments of tree seedlings and cuttings going out this Spring from the Dominion Forest Nursery Station at Indian Head, Saskatchewan, will be among the largest in the past five years. The kinds sent out are chiefly Manitoba maple, green ash, Russian poplar, willow, and aragana. They are used solely for planting shelter-belts on prairie farms. Since the nursery station was established about sixty million seedlings and cuttings have been distributed to prairie farmers.

THE LOVE PETAL

Another Big, Gripping Story by the Authors of "A Gamble in Beauty," Which Recently Created Such a Sensation

By NANCIBELLE HALE

The place smelled to high heaven of onions and cabbage and other cooking foods which insulted Neata's delicately attuned olfactory nerves. But when the door was opened and she was ushered through the long, dark hall into the small, ordinary, green-papered "parlor," with its red lamp, large leather arm chair and phonograph standing in one corner, its "style" magazines almost hiding the crocheted cover of the oak table, and the family portraits, in huge gilt frames, seeming to diminish the room's size, Neata saw a homely place—restful and cheerful.

The secret of attraction, Neata soon discovered, lay in the rotund, sweet-faced mother, Mrs. Neata, who was a woman who had refused to see anything but beauty in life; somewhat puzzled at the burdens she was forced to bear, but accepting them without a murmur.

She was deeply grateful for Neata's attention to Nancy. She insisted upon making her a cup of tea and, for fear of offending the cheerful, gracious soul, the daughter of the Kents, of Revolutionary fame, partook of food with the descendant of the O'Briens, the Kildares and the O'Sullivan—though Katie Lane, christened O'Rourke, knew nothing of her ancestry beyond the fact that her grandfather could consume more hard liquor than any man of his time—and gloried in his reputation.

Left a widow with her six young children, she had slaved day and night so that her brood might have a few years' schooling before each must battle for a foothold in the world.

"This many the toime we've had nothin' but beans," said Mrs. Lane. "But"—she laughed heartily, her head shoulders shaking—"beans is fillin'! An' beans or no beans, sez I, we'll stick together or starve together."

Neata thought of her own sheltered childhood and her eyes blurred. As she was leaving, she pressed a bill into Nancy's hand and, when the girl protested, Neata pleaded that she had something for herself as a remembrance of their meeting.

Perhaps you would like something which I would not choose were I to buy you a gift," said Neata. "—something you have been wanting... something stylish?"

"Sure there is," answered Nancy, her eyes glowing. "Some of our heavy woolen stockin's what costs five bones a pair. It's f.nny, ain't it? A year ago I was dyin' for silk ones, an' now all the rich women is wearin' wool. I guess soon they'll have t' change the name of Park Avenue from the silk stock n' ward."

Neata bade farewell to her new friends, who again thanked her, and she whispered to Nancy that she would see Oscar that very night.

She gave a little gasp when she spied her "black and white" still waiting at the curb. Her taxi bill had mounted considerably, while she had forgotten the existence of the chauffeur to drive her to the nearest subway station and there she dismissed the cab.

Into the dirty glass cowl of the subway went Neata, carefully picking her way down the ridged steps, fearful of catching her heel in the uneven iron stair covering. At the ticket window she was compelled to wait for a woman with many bundles to awkwardly rather up her change. She made much ado about the process, looking thunderously at the sign on the window, which read "How Many? Smiles. Most New York subway ticket sellers must be possessed of a sense of humor, thought Neata, as she remembered that she had seen similar signs in scores of subway stations.

She pushed a nickel through the curved opening of the stall and accepted the green paper with a low murmur of "Thank you," which, of course, was not answered by the public servant, who continued his monotonous business of dealing out perforated green paper slips by ones and twos and fives. Occasionally some one bought ten or twenty tickets at a time. The only difference to the man spending his life underground in the long line of people passing daily within his limited vision was the number of tickets purchased by him and the amount of change due each.

Neata dropped her ticket into the chopping box and passed through the gate to wait on the stone platform for a train. Involuntarily she glanced in the narrow mirror of the turn and chocolate slot attached to one of the black and white posts. She pushed further over her finely lined brows the gray woolly sailor which was an important part of her costume of gray and blue checked pleated skirt, short blue jacket and long, belted scarf of gray, which she wore with thick wooden hose and oxfords and gloves of gray suede.

She inserted a penny in the dark red slot and pushed the nickel-plated instrument which held in check the store of chocolate slabs, one of which dropped out. Neata tore off its brown paper wrapping and removed the tin-foil. She put the bit of sweet into her lovely mouth just as the train, filling the station with chill and noise by its onrush, rumbled in.

It was later than Neata had realized and the car was crowded. She grasped one of the white enamelled "hangers," her slender body swaying in the aisle as the train tore through the bowels of the earth. At every station more tired, soiled, sleep-hungry people boarded the car.

Neata appreciated the genius of the mind which conceived that method of travel. She realized that the city must long ago have stopped growing if there had not been a means other than surface cars and street cars and railroads to carry the millions to and from their work. Nevertheless, she despised the subway in "rush hour" with a hatred all the more intense because of the impossibility of spending it on anything tangible.

She tried to forget the nauseating proximity of the sweating, ill-smelling foreigners standing next her—not to think of the uncouth creature who seated in front of her, extended his knees as far as possible into the aisle so that his disgusting touch was unavoidable. It was impossible to escape. She could not move an inch.

She attempted to concentrate on the only part of the car which was not unlovely—the car-cards sandwiched in the sides of the roof. Between the advertisements in which a fair maiden proclaimed the benefits of a certain brand of soap, and that in which two cunning youngsters were shown having a pillow fight while, oddly enough, was used in an advertisement for the trustful public to consume quantities of sickening oil.

Neata saw on a card which told the virtues of a new make of collar the picture of a man, without eyes. She was interrupted in her wondering as to whether the illustration was from the brush of a futurist or if the picture had been used unintentionally by the sharp, excruciating pain resulting from a woman, full of avoirdupois, stepping—Neata believed purposefully—on her foot. Neata was consumed with fury as the woman, instead of apologizing, glared.

Neata thought with relish of the enjoyment she would receive from sticking a button into the spacious back of the corpulent passenger—but she never wore hats.

SUPERANNUATIONS SAVE B.C. $20,000 A YEAR

British Columbia Government will save about $20,000 a year through the superannuation and pensioning off of sixteen civil servants who have reached the age of 65 years, announced last week, according to information gathered at the Parliament Buildings.

The reason for this saving is that the work of departments affected by the superannuation is being re-organized and employees changed, so that it will not be necessary to engage any more employees.

COULDN'T DO

HOUSEWORK

HEART WAS SO BAD.

Many women get weak and run down and unable to look after their household duties owing to the heart action becoming impaired or the nervous system unstrung.

Nature intended women to be strong, healthy and happy instead of sick and wretched. But how can a woman be strong and healthy when day in and day out she has to go through the same routine of work, sweeping, dusting, cooking, washing, etc. Is it any wonder that the heart becomes affected and she gets irritable and nervous, has hot flushes, faint and dizzy spells, smothering and sinking spells and can't sleep at night?

To all women whose heart is weak and whose nerves are unstrung we would recommend—

MILBURN'S

as the best remedy to tone up the system and strengthen the weakened organs.

Mrs. Daniel Bestanson, Loganville, N. S., writes:—"As I was troubled with a weak heart for nearly two years I am writing to tell you what your great remedy, Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, has done for me."

"My heart was so bad at night I could not sleep, I would take smothering spells, and was so weak I could not do my housework. I tried two doctors, but got no results. A friend advised me to try your pills. I used six boxes and am completely relieved. I think they are the best remedy for heart trouble there is."

LACONIA DIFFERS GREATLY FROM HER FORMER NAMESAKE

New Ships of Cunard Fleet Are Oil-burners of Most Modern Type

The Laconia of pre-war days and the Laconia of the new one-funnel fleet of the Cunard Line are interesting comparisons. The old Laconia was fitted with reciprocal engines, had two funnels, because of the larger boiler installation necessary, compared with her modern namesake, for the oil burning boilers of which one funnel suffices. The entire machinery space, with fuel bunkers, in the new ship, is about four per cent. less than that of the old vessel. Most of this saving in space results from the use of oil fuel which can be stored in the ships double bottom tanks, taking the place of ballast water usually carried there. The corresponding space occupied by boilers and coal bunkers in the pre-war vessels, is available for cargo in the new ship, and this is space at the fullest part of the vessel. A second funnel, with its hatch and casing, passing through all the decks not being necessary in the new vessel, leaves the space, which would otherwise be required, available for passenger accommodation, public rooms and so on. This permits of a more pleasing and simple arrangement to suit the requirements of the ocean traveller and all adds to the comfort and pleasure of a voyage.

The single funnel is an outstanding feature of the Cunard Company's new fleet—the Samaria, Tyrhenia, Antonia, Laconia, Andania and Aulonia. To conform to the old-fashioned taste, the Cunard Company could have installed dummy funnels as has been done in some liners, but such an arrangement does not commend itself for various reasons. That it did not appear to the company is evidenced by the fact that all their post-war vessels are fitted with one funnel. To carry to and fro across the Atlantic unnecessary tonnage in the shape of a dummy funnel which also reduces the stability of the ship, is not a business policy and the Cunard Line is setting this fashion in single funneled oil burning liners.

CONVICT SHIP WILL PAY MONTREAL VISIT

Montreal, April 4.—One of the oldest ships that has visited Montreal in many a long day and probably the strangest ship ever seen in local waters is expected to visit this port next season to make an extended stay, according to a letter received from her master, Captain D. H. Smith, who commands the famous old Australian convict ship, Success. This ship is now on a tour of the world and her master hopes to sail her up the St. Lawrence shortly after the opening of navigation in the Spring. The stay in this port is scheduled for several weeks, during which time the ship will be open to visitors. The Success spent some time in New York harbor last year. She is the only survivor of those ships that once comprised the notorious "Felon Fleet," which between the years of 1787 and 1868 transported over 167,000 men, women and children from Great Britain to Australia. The ship Success was built in 1790 at Moulmein, British East India, to be used as an armed East India merchantman. She was purchased by the British Government in 1840 and was converted into a floating convict prison and soon became the commodore ship of the felon fleet. Although the oldest ship afloat in 1922, she is still unchanged after all these years, nothing being omitted from her except her original human freight. Aboard her are now shown in their original state, all the airless dungeons and the manacles, the branding irons, the condemned cells, the whipping posts, the punishment balls, the leaden-tipped cat-o-nine-tails, the coffin bath and other inventions of a more unregenerate age. The Success was scuttled in Sydney harbor in 1885 but was raised five years later and has since, it is claimed, been inspected by more than 15,000,000 people.

Sidney-Anacortes Motor Car Ferry Proves Popular

On April 26 the Harvester King, the Sidney-Anacortes motor-car ferry which with the Gleaner will bring so many motorists to Vancouver Island this Summer, will make its initial voyage on the newly-established run. The Anacortes Chamber of Commerce will stage the first run, and representatives of the public bodies of all the town on the American coast, including Seattle and Bellingham, will tour to Victoria and spend the day here, returning home in the evening. On May 3 the Victoria Chamber of Commerce and Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, the latter responsible for securing the service, will be the guests of Captains Harry Crosby and J. A. Payne, owners of the vessels. Newspapers of the Island will make the trip in order to publish the facts regarding the new service, an invitation having been extended to them for May 3. A drive will be taken to Bellingham, and the Chamber of Commerce there will entertain the Victoria visitors, who will witness the tulip festival.

The actual inaugural service will begin on April 29, when both will be put in service, each making one round trip daily, one boat laying up at each terminal over night. San Juan Islanders want the ferry to stop at Friday Harbor twice a week. There are four hundred cars on San Juan Island, the owners of which will enjoy the pleasure of being able to cross to the Mainland. The ferry service has received widespread publicity in all the newspapers of the Pacific Coast and a crop of tourists should be the result of the service.

MODERN NOAH'S ARK

The White Star liner Medic, like an up-to-date Noah's Ark, reached Tilbury, London, recently, from Australia, with a most representative collection of birds and animals that has ever left the Antipodes. A. St. Le Souer, a director of the Sydney Zoological Society, and representing the Sydney, Melbourne, and Perth zoos, officiated at the unloading of the collection, which has been transferred to the Regent's Park Zoo. Two of the most interesting new arrivals are lung fishes, which are only found in a couple of Queensland rivers. When the water supply gives out the fishes bury themselves in the mud, and breathe the air at frequent intervals. There were also a number of kangaroos and six flying phalanger of the squirrel variety. Although most of the specimens arrived safely there were some slight losses en route. The kangaroos had suffered from the heat, but were lively on reaching Tilbury. Some of the quail, geese and parrots lay eggs on the journey and upon nearing the Equator, settled down to hatch them.

SEA HARVEST OF NOVA SCOTIA VALUED AT NINE MILLIONS

Halifax, April 4.—Nova Scotia obtained a harvest from the sea last year valued at nine million dollars, according to the report of the Commissioner of Fisheries, A. H. Nickerson, which was submitted to the Legislature yesterday. The yield for the previous year was valued at $15,000,000.

MONTROSE ADDED TO C.P.R. FLEET

New Liner for Atlantic Service Completes Satisfactory Trials

Montreal, April 4.—Cable advices report that the S.S. Montrose, docked at Liverpool after a highly satisfactory trial run, was built by the Fairfield Shipbuilding and Engineering Company at Govan, Scotland, and is a sister of the Montclair and Montcalm.

The Montrose will reach Montreal on her first trip on May 14, and the Montclair, on her maiden trip, on July 2. The Montclair, the first of the three Canadian Pacific oil-burning steamships for the Liverpool-Canada service, sailed from Liverpool for St. John on January 17 on her first voyage. The Montclair, Victorian, Montrose and Montcalm will maintain a weekly service between Montreal and Liverpool this Summer.

The Montrose was built to the requirements of the highest class survey, is classed "100A1," and represents in every way the very best of her type in beauty and symmetry of design, and in security, speed, steadiness and perfect comfort. She is a geared-turbine, twin-screw, steel steamship with cruiser stern, and carries two funnels. The dimensions are 566 feet in length, 70 feet in breadth, 51 feet depth. Her gross register is over 16,400 tons.

The Montrose and her new sister ships, the Montclair and Montcalm are of the one-cabin type made popular by the present M.S. Minnedosa, Melita, and Metagama. Accommodation is provided for over 500 cabin passengers, and 1,250 third-class passengers.

These three new liners will use oil as fuel, similar in equipment to the Empress of Britain and Empress of Scotland, for the greater general efficiency and cleanliness of oil fuel. Extensive provisions have been made for the crew, and shortening of time in port, factors which have an important bearing on traffic cost, especially in the case of passenger steamships of the class represented by the Montrose, the Montclair and Montcalm.

Luxurious and spacious accommodation for cabin passengers is provided amidships on "B" and "C" decks, the staterooms being comfortably arranged for two and four passengers. The cabin dining saloon is a spacious apartment extending the full breadth of the ship and providing comfortable seating accommodation is situated on "D" deck amidships convenient to the main entrance. It has a large well overhead, surrounded by an arcade "clerestory." A feature of the saloon is the large number of tables arranged for small parties.

On the promenade deck are the cabin smoking room, the lounge, the drawing room, the writing room, the card room, and the children's room. Extensive promenade space for cabin passengers is provided, and extends the whole length of the deck, allowing ample space for games clear of the actual promenade, while sheltered recesses are arranged for deck chairs. An open-air dancing space has been arranged on "A" deck.

The third-class accommodation is provided on "D" and "E" decks, in two, four, and six berth rooms, and can be almost described as "third class luxury" as it has been arranged with great care, and embodies all the latest details for the convenience of passengers. The third-class dining saloon is situated on "D" deck between the dining saloons, thus ensuring a quick and efficient service. All the latest improvements have been supplied, and the galleys and pantries are equipped in the most up-to-date fashion.

URGENT NEED OF RELIEF MEASURES

Friendly Help Supplies Running Out; Appeal for Donations at Once

The regular monthly meeting of the Friendly Help Association was held at the rooms in the Market Building this morning eighteen members being present. Rev. J. E. Dismick of the Methodist Church, Victoria West, was welcomed as a new member.

The secretary reported that 163 families, representing about 590 people, were given assistance during the month of March. Of these 63 were supplied with groceries, 31 with fuel, 71 with milk, and 42 with meat; 94 persons were given clothing during the month, with the result that the supply on hand has dwindled down to practically nothing, and the Association is now compelled to turn away dozens of applicants every day. The public is urged to help by donating clothing, especially for men. The Association is also in need of funds to carry on with its work, which is quite inadequate. Many of the cases given assistance are sick or infirm or mothers with small children, all of whom have to be carried on from month to month. Under these circumstances the Association is compelled to send out a S. O. S. call to all liberal-minded citizens to do what they can to augment the funds and thus enable the Association to carry on this very necessary work.

Contributions of all kinds, small or great, will be most thankfully received at the rooms of the Friendly Help Association, Market Building, Cormorant Street.

Ward Three Liberals—The social club recently organized by Ward Three Liberals will give a splendid entertainment in the Liberal Club to-morrow evening, commencing at 8 o'clock, to which all members of Ward Three and their friends are invited. The affair will include five hundred in progress in the small auditorium dancing will proceed in the larger hall. J. A. Watson is the leader of the orchestra just formed by the ward. There will be no charge for admission and the affair will start promptly at 8 o'clock.

Development Group—The Development Group of the Chamber of Commerce will meet in the Chamber of Commerce rooms at 8 o'clock this evening, when arrangements will be made for a further meeting between local business men and the producers of the surrounding district. Conferences have been held by the group with outlying districts and with the Victoria and District Cottage Gardeners' Association. J. A. Griffiths, chairman of the group, and H. N. Finn, secretary, attended last week's meeting with Metcoshin producers.

"RUSS" HUMBER GOES TO CEDAR CREEK GOLDFIELD

Among the many persons who are leaving the coast cities for the excitement at Cedar Creek is W. H. Russell Humber, who has been residing at his farm at Deep Bay since he was engaged in construction on the Songhees Reserve for the Provincial Government.

Mr. Humber was a most active member of the City Council during the boom days, and his intervention in the council debates proved him to be a stormy petrel.

He is accompanied to the Cariboo by "Bill" Barker.

DOCTORS HOLD SLOAN

The Hon. William Sloan, Minister of Mines, who went to Vancouver at the beginning of the week has been ordered to stay there for a number of days, so that he can be under the observation of doctors. Specialists have been dealing with the abscess found in the back of Mr. Sloan's nose. They are anxious to complete their work now, so that Mr. Sloan will be able to carry on his public duties without interference.

Another Burglary—Burglars broke into the home of William A. Parrot, 1134 Dallas Road last night, and secured a considerable amount of valuable jewelry, but overlooked $20 in cash. Entrance was gained through the back door between 7.45 and 11.45 o'clock, while the family was away.

TO TEST SPEED.

In the City Police Court this morning the Coca Cola Co. was charged with speeding. The big motor truck was alleged by Constable Drever to have been travelling at twenty-five miles an hour at the intersection of Fort and Government Streets. Laurence Larsen, driver of the truck, protested that the vehicle could not exceed the legal limit, and declared that, if it could, he would cheerfully pay the fine involved. A test was accordingly ordered to be made to-morrow morning by the police motor

"Just Listen to This"

"I HAVE been after you to try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and you always say it is intended more for women."

"Well, that is what I always understood, for I hear you women talking so much about using it."

"Don't you think men have blood and nerves as well as women? It says here that Dr. Chase's Nerve Food forms new, rich blood and nourishes the exhausted nerves back to health and vigor."

"Yes."

"Well, the doctor says it is your nerves that are responsible for your indigestion and sleeplessness. Why not try some of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food? You know what it did for me."

"I would like to know of some men in my condition who used it."

"Just listen to this: 'Mr. A. W. Foster, 178 Le Breton street, Ottawa, Ont., writes: 'For a year I was troubled with 'nerves' was restless, especially on retiring, and unable to sleep for hours. I was easily fatigued and very irritable.'

"A friend told me to try Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and before I had used the treatment a week I was enjoying a good night's rest every night. I gained rapidly in every way and my general health is very much improved."

"That sounds all right."

"Yes. This statement is vouched for by Mr. E. M. Ahearn, the druggist, and is no doubt correct."

"Well, I will give it a try-out."

ROYAL VICTORIA

Theresa Maxwell-Conover sounds distinguished enough for any social registry and it gains its parallel in the screen part that the owner of the name plays in "Polly of the Follies." Constance Talmadge's latest starring vehicle, which will be the first National attraction at the Royal Victoria Theatre again to-day. Miss Maxwell-Conover has the role of Mrs. Potter, a member of Long Island's social elite in the comedy film offering.

The actress is thoroughly experienced in the requirements of the part, because until the lure of the screen attracted her, she was one of society's leaders in Boston. This explains, perhaps, why her name is not so familiar to motion picture followers as she is making her second appearance before the camera in Miss Talmadge's latest production.

Miss Maxwell-Conover decided that life was too precious to be wasted in the frivolities of social amenities, so she decided to buckle down to serious work. How competent she is to undertake such duties is evidenced in her acting in "Polly of the Follies." The picture portrays the incidents in the career of a stage-struck girl with a startlingly unusual finish. John Emerson and Anita Loos prepared the story as an original especially for Miss Talmadge.

DOMINION

The Reartart picture, "The Case of Becky," at the Dominion Theatre all this week, is an adaptation of the great Edward Locke story which was staged by David Belasco in New York. It was selected by Constance Binney herself, she playing the role of Dorothy Stone, the girl with a dual personality.

The story, seemingly fantastic, is true in many of its details, having been written from a scientific treatise by Dr. Morton Prince, a Boston psychologist. The plot concerns a girl who is alternately controlled by two personalities, one good and the other evil. It is somewhat akin to "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," but is less weird and terrifying.

Hypnosis forms the scientific background for the story and it is through this science that the heroine is brought back to her normal self. Chester M. Franklin, the director using an exceptionally strong cast including Montague Love, Frank McCormack, Glenn Hunter, Margaret Seddon and Jane Jennings. George Foley photographed the production which was adapted by J. Clarkson Miller.

lightful photoplay of circus life now showing at the Capitol Theatre. The featured players are Ann Forrest and David Powell, both well known to American picture fans.

Miss Forrest is seen in the part of "perpetua," and David Powell appears opposite her in the role of her "adopted father," the artist, Brian. Another important member of the cast is John Milner, a well known American actor, who appeared in several George Fitzmaurice screen productions. Mr. Milner's role is that of Russell Edton, Perpetua's real and rather unpleasant parent.

John Diamond, Brian's lawyer friend, is portrayed by Dick Webb, a well-known screen actor, who in a comparatively short time has risen from "extra" to leading man. He is opposite her in the role of her "adopted father," the artist, Brian. Another important member of the cast is John Milner, a well known American actor, who appeared in several George Fitzmaurice screen productions.

The principal characters in the circus episodes of the story are played by Roy Byford and Florence Wood, both popular players who are seen as the circus proprietor and his wife, respectively. The plot concerns a girl who is alternately controlled by two personalities, one good and the other evil. It is somewhat akin to "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," but is less weird and terrifying.

VARIETY

Just before leaving for the Pacific coast last year William Farnum searched New York City for a house. Riverside was too windy in the winter and there were too many automobiles on Sunday. It made one dizzy to look at them. Fifth Avenue also was flooded with machines. But he wanted to be near the water. Suddenly he decided to look over the air there. He found the air there was fresh and ideal for summer. But the thing that really sold the house in Beekman was the fact that the back yard sloped right down to the East River with a private dock. This meant that the Fox star could anchor his yacht in his country home in Sag Harbor, Long Island.

He bought the house and went home to think about it. He decided by peeping into the future, that others soon would feel just as he did about the air and quiet, and that in a few years West Siders of prominence would try to become East Siders. He further decided that he had better fortify himself against this onslaught. So the next day he bought another house, next door.

While he was making scenes for "His Greatest Sacrifice," now being shown at the Variety Theatre, Mr. Farnum recalled how correct had been his judgment. Since he moved in there has been a veritable boom along the upper East Side. Artists, authors, musicians, all have sought the peace and quiet obtainable there. Prominent members of society also have sought the East River breezes—perhaps the most interesting purchase by the socially conspicuous being that of Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt.

"Humph!" growled Thompson. "You must have fallen an awful distance."

ADDRESS AND GOLF SET GIVEN GOEPEL

Presentation Also Made to R. E. Hanson

A set of eight golf clubs by Phil Taylor, a golf bag, and a dozen golf balls were presented at the ceremonies yesterday afternoon at the Parliament Buildings to W. J. Goepel, Deputy Minister of Finance, who retired at the end of last week after 29 years of public service in this Province. Mr. Goepel is a steady golfer and from now on expects to spend much of his time on the Oak Bay Golf course.

The golf equipment was from the officials of the finance department. The presentation was made by the Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance. At the same time deputy ministers of the Government presented Mr. Goepel with an illuminated address. This was read by Dr. H. E. Young, chairman of the Provincial Board of Health. Those at the gathering gathered around the address to admire the skill and art displayed by W. H. Stokes, of the Lands Department, who designed, lettered and colored the address.

R. F. Tolmie, Deputy Minister of Mines, speaking for the other deputies, told of the happy associations which have existed among the departmental heads and expressed their regret at the severance of ties. Mr. Tolmie also referred to the service of R. E. Hanson, of the Treasury Department, who has also retired. Members of the Department presented him with a silver-mounted walking stick. On this was engraved: "Presented to R. E. Hanson by Treasury Department, British Columbia Government, March 31, 1922."

The address presented to Mr. Goepel is: "Dear Mr. Goepel: For nearly twenty-nine years of faithful work in the service of the Government and people of the Province of British Columbia, the announcement of your decision to seek retirement has been received with sincere regret by all, but more especially by those who, like ourselves, through intimate association, have been in a position to appreciate fully the sterling qualities which have been an outstanding feature of your long years of service."

"From the time you entered the service at Nelson in 1893, the wide experience gained in various positions, gave you a peculiar qualification for the position of Inspector of Offices to which position you were promoted in 1906, and the tact and ability which you displayed in that capacity and later as Deputy Minister of Lands and head of the Civil Service Commission, won for you the respect and appreciation of all and culminated in 1913 in your appointment as Deputy Minister of Finance, a position which has added distinction to your incumbency of the last nine years."

"Even more than as an expression of regret at your retirement, it is our desire to convey to you our sincere hope that, with Mrs. Goepel, you may have many years in which to spend your well earned leisure and that all happiness and prosperity may attend you."

"With the best of good wishes, we are your colleagues and friends."

Tolmie, Deputy Minister of Mines; J. D. McNeven, Deputy Minister of Labour; H. G. Garrett, Registrar of Joint Stock Companies; H. Cathcart, Superintendent of Lands; E. D. Johnson.

Long Civil Service Career.

Mr. Hanson was born in Cornwall, Ontario, and came to Victoria in 1892. For seventeen and one-half years he was a member of the Civil Service of Cape Colony, in the South Africa Department. He entered the British Columbia Government service on December 16, 1897, as clerk in the Reformatory, and was there for five and one-half years. He left the service for ten years, returning on November 25, 1912, as clerk in the Treasury Department, and remained in that branch until the present. Mr. Hanson saw active service in the Kaffir rebellion in South Africa in 1879, serving with the Duke of Edinburgh's Own Rifles.

COMING TO ROYAL

The visit that Queen Alexandra paid to the Alhambra to see the new film, "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court," recalls the fact that her Majesty enjoys the pictures more than is generally understood. For some years past defective hearing has militated against her enjoying of an ordinary theatre, so that she finds the pictures a welcome change.

Naturally, however, she makes her choice with a very nice discrimination, since it is not every programme that appeals to her. For some time past there has been a cinema outfit at Buckingham Palace, and her Majesty has seen several films displayed there.—London Graphic.

Mark Twain's "A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court" will be the attraction at the Royal Victoria Theatre all next week, commencing Monday.

Idea, prospects, and opportunities are in the classified ads. You can turn them into dollars with a little study.

MUSIC SEASON HOLDS PROMISE

Cherniavsky Concert Fore-runner of Summer Season

By George J. Dyke.

The music season is fast drawing to a close, but from the aspect of things this city will conclude amid a brilliant flourish. Throughout the winter there have been numerous concerts, recitals, and many varied musical entertainments, and Victoria, too, has been visited by many of the world's best artists. At all these—at times—especially under some trying local circumstances, the support and attentiveness have been quite gratifying and encouraging, and the community spirit has been more than vindicated. Musically the season's results so far have been all that could be desired, and as a music centre the Capital city can well be proud, and can proclaim its musical potentialities as distinctly and bravely.

In the concluding events of the season the most noteworthy are the unique recital of the three most remarkable young men in the world of music, Leo, Jan and Mischel Cherniavsky, to be given next week. The coming of Giuseppe Creatore, the thrilling conductor; Yolanda Mero, the "Supreme Mistress of the Piano," the organ recitals by Frederick Chubb and Frank Wrigley, and the Scots Guards Band, of England.

Cherniavsky Trio.
The Cherniavsky Trio is the most famous, and in their first three years toured Russia with phenomenal success. Since then they have toured Europe, and have been met with large and enthusiastic audiences.

Leo is the violinist. Born in Uman, Province of Kiev, as also were his two brothers, he is fourth eldest of a family of nine. He began his violin studies at the age of six, and soon began to astonish his hearers at his facile execution, double stopping, etc. The great Ysaie once styled him "my young colleague."

Mischel is the cellist, and unusual musical perception was shown by him also when quite young. He began to study the cello when five years old, and two years later joined his brothers, Leo and Jan, on tour. This was made the beginning of this remarkable trio of soloists. The great cellist, Popper, and the giant Camille Saint-Saens were both delighted and impressed with the extraordinary control over his much-treasured instrument.

Jan is the pianist. At seven years of age he made his first concert tour, and a few years later became a pupil of the great master Leschetizky. He is placed third in the front ranks of the younger generation of pianists. They are all endowed with extraordinary gifts as brilliant soloists, and their trio work abounds in musicianship and unanimity of purpose.

Yolanda Mero.
Unusual pianistic interest will no doubt be aroused at the visit here of one of the world's most brilliant mistresses of the piano, in Yolanda Mero. Other women in their mind, personality, temperament, and in technical command, taken their place with the greatest men, such a woman of distinction in her own right. Born in Hungary, she seethes with the fiery temperament of her race and in certain styles of music she literally "sweeps her hearers off their feet."

She was a great artist when she first landed in New York ten years ago since which time honors have been heaped upon her surpassing imagination. Her mastery of the piano's technique has been described as resembling the wonderful genius, Liszt, and in every respect there is the exquisite finesse, the bigness of conception, the grasp and breadth, and above all a beautiful surpassing quality of tone. In the music of Liszt she has few equals. She toured Europe with considerable success until 1909, when her first American debut was with the Russian Symphony Orchestra in the same year. Her management will do well to include in her programme the wonderful number, her favorite, the A major concerto, Franz Liszt.

Giuseppe Creatore.

This is the name of a sensational conductor. It will be remembered perhaps that Creatore came West some years ago as leader of the Royal Italian Band, then under the direction of Canning Ellery, and created a wonderful impression. This conductor is now at the head of an orchestra and is touring America and Canada with remarkable results. He is to be guest conductor at the Capitol during the week of April 24 when an augmented orchestra under his spirited baton will render some well-known excerpts from symphonies and opera.

Frank Wrigley and Frederick Chubb Arrangements are well in hand for the appearance here of these two skilful and popular organists some time during May. Both will give recitals at the re-opening of the pipe organ at the St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church at intervals of three or four weeks.

The Scots Guards Band.
This famous band will tour Canada, and is booked to appear here on the eve of Empire Day. A description and its history will be given at a later date.

SAANICH TRUSTEES REPROVE PAPERS FOR SLANGINESS

Board Would Prevent Children From Enjoying Funny Features

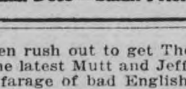

Slang, the niceties of grammar, and the English language as favored by the average run of men, all became involved in a somewhat heated discussion which took place last night at the Saanich Municipal Hall, Royal Oak, when School Trustees F. V. Hobbs demanded that he be served a "collation" of the school readers.

Chairman Philip Holloway, who is a farmer by occupation, protested that an inspection of the school readers would matter little to the education of the children and would be love's labor lost, anyway, as the Provincial Educational Department vied the textbooks before they were authorized for use.

Naughty Newspapers.
"If you are looking for an opportunity to improve the address of the children, keep them away from the newspapers, why, these Victoria papers are simply full of slang. Even my own children rush out to get The Times to see the latest Mutt and Jeff, and of all the fange of bad English, commend me to those cartoon features," he said.

Trustee Hobbs' general storekeeper, denied that he wanted to find fault with the textbooks "but I want to see if they are teaching the truth as to history and other matters. With many of the States revising their school readers in the interest of international veracity and amity, it is time Canada's books were looked over for elimination of glaring untruths," he said.

Trustee Hull remarked, "I think I know what Trustee Hobbs is after," and the chairman again interjected "I have often had in mind the need of better education of the children in forms of speech, but as long as the newspapers disseminate the nonsense they do, in the form which appeals to the childish mind, educational works and the teachers have an almost hopeless task in trying to improve conditions."

Trustee Hull aired a farmer's view when he remarked that the slang of one generation becomes the accepted speech of the next, being in fact the advance agent of progress in the language.

Trustee Hobbs insisted that the Board be supplied with a collection of all the readers in use in the schools, and was only satisfied when the Board instructed Secretary Cowper to table such an exhibit.

"This certainly gives us Canadian riders a generous reduction and a square deal. I'm told that bicycles of equal quality cost more in the United States than C.C.M. Bicycles do in Canada."

"Remember, C.C.M. prices didn't advance anywhere nearly so much as most products, so they hadn't as far to come down."

"And C.C.M. Bicycles are even better now than before the war."

"You know, the best steels and materials were reserved for war purposes, and the best mechanics put on war orders. The Dread Pyorrhea Begins With Bleeding Gums Pyorrhea's infecting germs cause many ills. Medical science has proven this.

Diseased conditions, which not long ago doctors were unable to trace to a cause, are now known often to be the result of Pyorrhea germs that breed in pockets about the teeth. Rheumatism, anaemia, nervous disorders and other diseases have been traced in many cases to this Pyorrhea infection.

Don't let Pyorrhea work its wicked will on your body. Visit your dentist frequently for tooth and gum inspection.

And watch your gums yourself. Pyorrhea, which afflicts four out of five people over forty, begins with tender and bleeding gums; then the gums recede, the teeth decay, loosen and fall out, or must be extracted to rid the system of poisons generated at their base.

Forhan's For the Gums will prevent Pyorrhea—or check its progress, if used in time and used consistently. Ordinary dentifrices cannot do this. Forhan's keeps the gums hard and healthy—the teeth white and clean. Start using it today. If gum-shrinkage has already set in, use Forhan's according to directions and consult a dentist immediately for special treatment.

SOOKE NAVAL BRIGADE BOYS WANT A BOAT

(Times Correspondence)

Sooke Harbor.—P. A. Rayner, secretary of the Victoria branch of the Boys' Naval Brigade, visited Sooke Harbor and inspected the local sub-division. He congratulated the boys upon their smart appearance and steady work on parade. He was glad to announce that every hope was held of a boat being secured for the local sub-division. Lieut.-Commander Clark, of the Esquimalt Naval Station, had wired Ottawa for permission to send out a gig to Sooke Harbor for the training of the boys and the Navy League had every confidence that this request would be granted and the boat be on its way to Sooke shortly.

Petty Officer C. Halliday, an old Sooke boy, accompanied Mr. Rayner and put the sub-division through a short examination. He found many of the lads proficient in knowledge of various knots, bends and hitches. Mr. Rayner stated that Lieut. Tribe would be out in the course of a month to examine the acting leading seamen. Only Petty Officer C. Barrow had thus far had his rank confirmed, which was done at the camp last Summer, and it was up to all who held their temporary rank to work hard in the meantime if they wished to hold their position, for a leading seaman had to know his work thoroughly and maintain conduct of an exemplary character.

After the parade was dismissed the officer in command, W. Miller Higgs, proceeded with Mr. Rayner carefully to look into the question of the possibility for Sooke Harbor being chosen for the Summer camp this year. An ideal site was found and various inquiries were made as to details and Mr. Rayner left Sooke in strong hope that the fine location might be selected.

To-morrow evening the return basketball match between the Boys' Naval Brigade and local Girl Guides will take place at Charters' Hall at 8 o'clock. Though the girls' team is considerably heavier than the boys it is hoped that an exciting game may be given. A good deal of local interest is centring upon this return match.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE HELD SOCIAL EVENT

(Times Correspondence)

Metchosin.—The Langford Women's Institute, having abandoned for one month the plan of a regular meeting, held a social at which there was a good attendance of members and friends. A community sing was much enjoyed by all and solos were pleasingly rendered by Mrs. M. Brand. Refreshments were served by members of the Institute, assisted by members of the Langford Girls' Club. Miss Waddy acted as accompanist.

A dance will be held at the Langford Assembly Hall to-morrow evening at 8.30. There will be a three-piece orchestra in attendance and a buffet supper will be served.

RUSSIAN RELIEF.

(Times Correspondence)
Sooke, April 3.—The Sooke Presbyterian Church was filled to capacity on Sunday night when a public meeting was held in favor of the Russian Famine Relief.

Alderman Woodward and P. A. Graham, of Victoria, in addressing the congregation, pictured the terrible conditions existing in the famine-stricken parts of Russia, the deplorable prejudice existing among the rest of the civilized nations against everything Russian. It was pointed out that authorities such as Dr. Nansen, and Sir Philip Gibbs had convincingly proven that the famine was caused by climatic defects, aggravated by after-war conditions, but most people cling to the erroneous belief that the existing Russian regime was responsible for it, and remain apathetic towards the sufferers. The speakers appealed to the audience to help the Russian people as Christians.

as well as from a point of view of self preservation, stemming the tide of disease, the aftermath of famine. The meeting passed a resolution calling upon the Dominion Government to make a substantial contribution towards the relief of the famine-stricken people of Russia. The amount of $38.70 was contributed by the congregation towards the relief fund.

VICTORIA DOCTOR TALK ON ROTARY

Inspiring Address at Pacific Northwest Convention

"Christ himself was the grand example of a true Rotarian," declared Dr. Louis K. Poyntz of this city, in speaking before the Rotary convention yesterday afternoon on "The Rationale of Rotary." "He had no bank account in dollars and cents, but in the thirty-three odd years that He spent He established a credit that has served as the legacy of the world for over sixty generations, and is good for as many more. It was service, not self, that makes Christ immortal."

In introducing the subject, Dr. Poyntz declared that it was the legitimate right, in fact the duty, of the delegates to ask whether Rotary was well founded, whether it had been tested, and whether that test had been sufficiently severe and sufficiently long.

Teaches Co-Operation.
Rotary, he pointed out, was only seventeen years old, but the spirit and tenets of Rotary were as old as the centuries, and had practical application in the lives of thousands of the world's greatest men.

"The spirit of Rotary," he declared, "implies the setting aside of one's individual desires and wishes, and teaches that a harmonious co-operation of the several individual members of a community reacts to the mutual benefit of all with lessened friction, and therefore with increased efficiency which, of course, obviates waste. But to accomplish this there must be an organized pulling together."

"The day of individualism is dead—has long since been dead. In fact it actually never existed, except as an artificial state, but we are only now beginning to realize that, though the Creator knew this long ago," he said.

Life Is a Ledger.

Individuals, he continued, are cogs in the wheels of a complex society, and if a single cog fails, undue strain is thrown on the whole machine, with resulting lessened efficiency. Impaired efficiency was waste, and thus when the individual failed, the entire machine would not run true. "Sheldon has expressed this rather nicely," he declared. "Every life is a ledger. On the credit side we have our Rights, Privileges and Prerogatives. On the debit side are the Obligations, Duties and Responsibilities. But, remember, it is a ledger—and should be balanced."

Service, he said, meant usefulness, and usefulness meant work. Work brought a clean mind and a healthy body, and was excellent medicine for both mind and muscle, and thus Rotary became a physician.

Not Business Cloak.

"It is not necessary to attend meetings to be a Rotarian. It is not necessary even to have your name on the roster," he went on.

"There are scores of men who never heard the name of Rotary—who never attended a meeting—but yet who are true Rotarians—whose example the best of us could emulate with profit."

"Rotary is not a cloak for commercialism, and the fellow who tries to prostitute it by attempting to use it as such should be guillotined with the dispatch and without ceremony. That kind of a creature is the most contemptible that breathes, but, fortunately, a man who is not a man can not long disguise himself as a Rotarian. He must meet the inevitable acid test of service, which he will find can not be faked, and, you, right down in your heart, know full well whether you are a camouflage impostor or the genuine article."

ALVEAR BELIEVED ELECTED NEW CHIEF OF ARGENTINA

Paris, April 4.—Marcello T. de Alvear, Argentina Minister to France, has resigned.

Senor de Alvear was radical candidate for the presidency of Argentina in the election held on Sunday. A Paris dispatch yesterday stated he had received messages from his friends in Buenos Aires congratulating him on what they considered his certain election.

Was Troubled WITH HER STOMACH For Five Years

Mrs. Samuel Ward, Millersdale, Sask., writes:—"I feel that I must write to you before another day passes so happy and so grateful to your splendid medicine, Burdock Blood Bitters, for after an illness of five years I am better. I could not bear the smell or taste of food of any kind, and got so thin and weak I could not work. I had four doctors attend me, but they did me no good. I was in no pain, but felt so ill, at times, I thought I would die, in fact, all my friends were sure I could not live many weeks."

"This time last year I saw where a man was relieved of stomach trouble by Burdock Blood Bitters, so I had my hand got me two bottles, but I had no faith in it after all the different medicines I had taken, however, he insisted, and after the first two days I must say I began to feel better, and in the first bottle I felt so much better I went out a little every day, but could not go alone I was so weak, but I soon got so I could walk and eat, and have got quite stout."

"I am nearly seventy years of age and I feel better than I have for years, and can now do all my household work."

"You may make use of this letter if you wish, as it may be the means of making others as well and as happy as I am."

The TIMES NEWS of SPORT

Lawn Tennis Will Enjoy Great Year

Victoria Lawn Tennis Club Organizes for Season With H. G. Garrett as President and J. B. Brown as Secretary — Expect Greatest Season in History of Game

Lawn tennis is in for its biggest season in the history of the city, according to statements made at the annual meeting of the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club held last evening in the Belmont Building. The meeting was well attended and everyone was enthusiastic over the prospects for the coming season.

Extensions have been carried out at the Willows courts. A fourth hard court has been constructed during the winter, while the two laid last year were resurfaced and three of the grass courts were turned over and resown.

Mr. Garrett Chosen.

H. G. Garrett, who headed the club last year, was again elected president and under his guidance it is expected that the popularity of the club will continue to increase. The membership at present stands at 407 and this will no doubt be increased, as many players are anxious to enroll with the senior club.

W. H. Bone, who is in the veteran class, is again an officer of the club, filling the position of vice-president. Another veteran, J. G. Brown, who has been attending to the million and one things in connection with the secretarial post of the club for the past four years, will again supervise those arduous duties. Mr. Brown is expected back from the East to-day, and he will be able to pitch right into the job. After his election last night members of the club spoke in laudable terms of the splendid services rendered the club by Mr. Brown.

The executive committee of the club will be as follows: Mrs. (Col.) Hodgins, Miss Jackson, Alexis Martin, K. E. Deeming, E. McCalmum, T. H. Leeming, A. W. Idiens and G. L. Foulkes.

Off With a Dance.

The club arranged to start the season right and will stage a dance on Friday, April 28, details of which will be announced later.

In reviewing the work of the past year the executive committee reported that an effort had been made to have the Canadian Lawn Tennis Championship played in Victoria, but without success. It has been decided, however, to have the preliminary trials played in two sections, one in the East and one in the West. The last named section comprising the provinces of British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba. A sectional tournament will be played in each of these provinces as decided by the councillors representing them and the winners will be entitled to certain free expenses to Toronto for the Canadian Championship itself.

The organization for the biggest tennis season in the history of the city has not been confined to Victoria Lawn Tennis Club. Various other smaller clubs have organized and many new independent courts have been constructed during the winter. The game will almost attain the popularity of baseball, which is played on every sand lot. Some folks are planning to string nets across blind streets and make use of the asphalt pavement.

ATHLETES WILL MEET AT ARMORIES TO-NIGHT TO HEAR OF NEW PLAN

All athletes and others interested in the formation of the Fifth Regiment Sports Association are invited to attend a meeting to be held in the Armories at 8 o'clock on Tuesday night. The meeting is being called by the O.C. Robertson, O.C. is anxious to have the regiment in all lines of sports and he wants to get the sports enthusiasts of the city at a meeting to talk things over. The Colonel has a proposition which he would like to present to the athletes.

MANY STARS PASS FROM RG LEAGUES

25 Noted Ball Players With Majors Last Season Have Been Dropped

Many Others Will Go at End of Season; "Homerun" Baker May Be Among 'Em

New York, April 4.—Since last year twenty-five ball players of note have left the major leagues and an equal number may follow them at the end of the coming pennant races. Managers and scouts are slowly but surely bringing youngsters out of obscurity to take the places of the fading stars. At the Southern training camps many colts have been on trial and some of them will remain in fast company to gain much needed experience as active substitutes or bench warmers.

The passing of Ferdinand Schupp from the Brooklyn to the Kansas City American Association Club rounds out the list of discarded players. Schupp's great pitching was a factor in the Giants' record breaking run of twenty-six consecutive victories in 1916 and also helped McGraw's team to get into the 1917 world series with the Chicago White Sox. A year later Schupp's arm became practically useless and he never regained his effectiveness either with the Cardinals or Robins.

Many Others Depart.

In addition to Schupp, National League clubs have displaced Ed Konetchy, Slim Saltee, George Cutshaw, John Miller, Charley Neal, Pete Kilduff, Ernest Krueger, "Hip" Vaughn, Tom Daly, Dode Paske, Rube Benton, Eddie Bayer and Frank Brube.

The American League's discards are: Ray Caldwell, Bobby Roth, Edie Ainsmith, Jimmy Austin, Sam Vick, Tim Hendry, Oscar Vitt, Duffy Lewis, Ping Pong, who was probably sent to the Pacific Coast League by the Red Sox; Jim Shaw and Scott Perry, who pitched for the Senators and Athletics, respectively last season with poor results.

Many Near Finish.

This may be the last big league campaign for Jake Daubert, first baseman of the Cincinnati Reds. Pat Moran is grooming young Fonseca to fill the famous veteran's shoes. Dave Robertson of the Pirates, who once played with the Giants, is said to be on the ragged edge. Hank Gowdy of the Braves, one of the heroes of the 1914 world series, is believed to be nearly through. Casey Stengel may no longer be in the Cardinals' line-up. Branch Rickey's lieutenant, Whitely, just sold to the Brooklyn by the Pirates, will be used as a substitute by the Giants.

The Washington Club is preparing to release Donnie Bush, formerly a minor league club and soon Manager Milan will direct the Senators from the bench with a youngster taking his place in the field. The Tigers are ready to drop "Pep" Young and the Clevelanders, in 1923, may get along without Larry Gardner, Jack Graney, Jim Bagby and Guy Morton.

Good-Bye Frank.

Perhaps Frank Baker, of the Yankees, will retire permanently in the fall, while it is predicted that Jack Quinn and Eddie Foster will not remain with the Red Sox through the season. Doc Johnson, purchased by the Athletics from the Indians, is thought to have reached the end of his long career.

FINAL SUNDAY SCHOOL GAMES ARE ON TO-NIGHT

Toronto, April 4.—A representative meeting of the Canadian Amateur Association of Oarsmen was held here Saturday night, with President F. J. Mulqueen in the chair.

Arrangements were made for the Royal Canadian Henley, which will likely be held at St. Catharines on July 28 and 29, if these dates harmonize with those of the N. A. A. O. regatta, which is to be held at Philadelphia, probably the 4th or 5th of August.

The Henley programme will be practically the same as last year, but many improvements will be made in connection with the regatta.

It was decided to send a deputation to Ottawa to ask that the duty on racing shells and equipment from England be removed, and the Railway Board be requested to restore the pre-war special rates on the railways.

GETTING READY FOR CANADIAN HENLEY

The Sunday School basketball season will be finally wound up to-night at the First Presbyterian gymnasium, when the last game will be played, the James Bay Methodists meeting the Belmont Methodists in the intermediate boys' division at 8 o'clock.

Hammer-Throw and Shot-Put Are Discarded by English 'Varsities

Toronto, April 4.—A London cable to The Toronto Globe says:

"The joint athletic committee of Oxford and Cambridge Universities in session last week, agreed to work out radical changes in the programme of events for the annual dual meeting between the Light and Dark Blues. In the first place it was definitely decided to banish the hammer throw in the list of events. A further suggestion to abandon the shot put along with the hammer and to add a 220-yard hurdle race, a pole vault and a javelin throw will be acted upon favorably, it is understood. The annual track and field contests between the British colleges is that the joint committee feels that competition in weight events are decided primarily by mere strength and not by pluck, skill and endurance.

"Play Ball" Call Goes Forth in Coast League

San Francisco, April 4.—Pacific Coast Baseball League schedule for week of April 4-9:

Seattle at San Francisco; Vernon at Salt Lake; Portland at Los Angeles; Oakland at Sacramento.

Dell Opposes Kallio.

Salt Lake City, Utah, April 4.—The Vernon and Salt Lake clubs were ready to-day to open the season at 2:30 o'clock. The game will be preceded with a flag-raising, with the exercises in charge of the marine corps. Weiser Dell will oppose Rudy Kallio in the box in the opener.

All Records Broken.

San Francisco, April 4.—Recreation Park, the home of the San Francisco club of the Pacific Coast Baseball League, is expected to be jammed to the gunwales to-day when the Seals meet the Seattle Indians in the first game of the 1922 season. Advance seat sales have broken all records.

Portland and Angeles Ready.

Los Angeles, April 4.—With balmy Spring skies on the weather man's mind to-day, the Portland and Los Angeles Pacific Coast League clubs were awaiting the clang of the bell to send them into the first contest of the long race for the 1922 pennant at Washington Park here this afternoon. The Northerners, with a reconstructed team, which includes a str in the line-up, will kick up quite a stir in the game.

Keatings After Being Beaten in Three Games Snatched Senior Tussles From Fire

During the winter St. Saviour's and Keatings have played together in some very good and interesting games, but the games played last night in the L. A. Gym. put all previous matches in the dark.

In the boys' junior game St. Saviour's boys were too good for the Keatings, especially when Tom Wachter and Ted Holder settled down to some fine combination work and shooting. The score jumped from 10-2 in the first half to 24-15 in the second half.

Considering that the Keatings boys are new at the game some not having played till lately they put up a splendid game.

The exciting game proved the most exciting of the evening. After hard and fast play by both teams during the first half, the Keatings were able to score a point. The second half became still more exciting, as proved by the cheers from the fans on both sides, when at the end of the game a tie 4-4. Five minutes overtime had to be played and amidst more cheers St. Saviour's added 2 and after Keatings had made one at the end of the final score being 6-5, St. Saviour's favor. Miss D. Anderson and Miss May, both for Keatings, played well together and pulled some good combination work.

Not quite so exciting was the men's game played next, between St. Saviour's "B" team and Keatings. Like the first game Keatings failed to get the lead, and although they fought hard to catch up the score doubled that of their own, being in the end 26-13 in St. Saviour's favor.

Again speed and hard work were exhibited in the men's game with Keatings and St. Saviour's "A" team. Walter Bates and Clifford Tostevson, both for Keatings, showed fine form. Tostevson causing a sensation with his wonderful shooting from almost any part of the floor. After half time when the score stood 12-20 in Keatings' favor St. Saviour's suddenly bucked up and ran the score up to 19-20; but Keatings were watching the game closely, and did not intend to lose all four in one evening. In the end St. Saviour's only lost by one point, the score being 23-24.

HOCKEY COMES TO A CLOSE IN THE STATES

Boston, April 4.—In the last hockey game of the 1922 season, held last night, the Boston Bruins defeated the New York Rangers by a score of 1 to 0. This gives the Bruins two victories out of three games.

GYRO AND KIWANIS SOCCER TEAMS WILL MEET TO-MORROW

To-morrow afternoon the soccer teams of the Gyro and Kiwanis Clubs will stage a soccer game at the Stadium. Both clubs have strong eleven and a great game is anticipated. Included in the Gyro line-up will be such stars as Archie Muir, Elliott Totty and Angie McInnes. The rest of the team will be on a par with these boys. The Kiwanis are not worried over the Gyro team, considering that they have imported a couple of international players to make the "geraniums" look like a lot of truck horns.

SEVEN TEAMS ENTER FOR JUNIOR TITLE

Local Teams Will Compete for 110-pound and 140-pound Championships

Seven teams have entered the Junior B. C. championship series which is being conducted by the Y. M. C. A. both on the Mainland and the Island. Victoria High School, Y. M. C. A., Belmont and First Presbyterians have all entered teams in the preliminary rounds.

The City Championship games on Wednesdays and Saturdays.

The series will settle who are the champions for the province in the 110 pounds, 125 pounds, and 140 pound teams. The finals will be staged in Vancouver on April 21 at the Y. M. C. A. Trophies are up for competition.

Each team will be presented the winners of the events in Vancouver which will attract entries from New Westminster, Vancouver and Victoria.

Each team will be weighed before entering the final games in Vancouver. The following are the teams entered in the Junior series: 110-pound team, Victoria High School; 125-pound team, Victoria High School; Boys' Naval Brigade and Belmont; 140-pound team, Victoria High School and First Presbyterian Church.

In a bowling match played last night, the E. & N. freightmen defeated the Express Hotel "A" team by 110 pins. H. McDougall bowled high score for the Freightmen, 155 pins, and W. Lord for the Express Hotel, with 157 pins.

Hard to Pick Next B.C. Golf Champion

Wilson and Greb May Yet Mingle

Reported That They May Fight in New York on Saturday; Dundee in Bout To-night

Montreal, April 4.—It was announced here last night that George Engle, manager for Harry Greb, had received an offer for a bout between Greb and Johnny Wilson, for the middleweight boxing championship to be held at Madison Square Garden Saturday.

Dundee Fights To-Night.

New York, April 4.—Johnny Dundee, who defends his title here to-night against Jimmy Goodrich, of Buffalo, signed to-day to defend his title for the first time in New York against "Pepper" Martin, of Brooklyn, on April 15. Dundee has been guaranteed $15,000 for his end of the receipts by Jimmy Kelly, Martin's manager for the 15-round contest.

Some Says He's Good.

London, April 4.—(Canadian Press Cable).—Critics hold divided opinions regarding the merits of Soldier Jones, the Canadian heavyweight boxer, who has been defeated by the Australian, on a foul, after he had practically put him out.

Some declare Jones is too slow, and others hold that he is able to beat any British heavyweight, and that he should be given an opportunity to meet the best of them.

Buff to Meet Lynch.

New York, April 4.—Johnny Buff, bantamweight champion, has been matched to defend his title against Joe Lynch, in a 15-round bout at Madison Square Garden on May 5.

Montreal, April 4.—An aspirant to Jack Dempsey's title is at present being trained in this city in the person of a young giant named Rioux, who hails from Trois Pictoues. He is, his supporters claim, nearly 6 feet, six inches in height.

Rioux, who was once a lumberman, is a great fighter here. He has never done any boxing.

FIERCE ENCOUNTER FOR OPENING NIGHT

Four Teams Are Ready to Commence in City and District Hoop League

All teams are training at their leashes to get away to a good start in the City and District Basketball League to-morrow night for the Little & Taylor Cup. Four teams will take the floor, the first game commencing at 8 o'clock. A large attendance is expected.

The J. B. A. and Crusaders are to stage the first game and have prepared a strong line-up so a fast game can be looked for. The Crusaders have an impregnable guard with a first class forward line while the J. B. A. is commencing with their veterans having an all-round good team.

The teams will be as follows: George Allen, "Chick" Bradley, M. Dunn and A. Leach.

Crusaders—Sid Hole, Ernie Cull, Jim Buckett, Sid Mills, Jack Dowds, Fred Webster and Reggie Graves.

The second fixture of the evening introduces some outside material and it is not very often that Victoria has a team as well equipped as the one from Saanichton in action. Saanichton will oppose in the second game the Y. M. A. Junior basketball men's team. The Crusaders can vouch for the Saanich representatives as being no mean opponents, having met them before in their own territory. So another close and exciting game may be expected in this tilt when the business men are arrayed against them. Both teams are strong and have rounded up a neat bunch of players.

William Peden and Peter McKennie will hold down the guard position for the "Y" team while W. Kenner, Hop King and Allen Harwood will be seen on the forward line with William Young warming the bench.

Saanichton will have the following players: W. McNally, M. Lavnon, A. Buckle, J. Lavnon, R. Crawford and E. Buckle.

ZBYSZKO FAILS TO THROW MAN TWICE

Little Rock, Ark., April 4.—Charles Bestrop, champion of the middleweight wrestling championship here last night won a handicap match from Stanislaus Zbyszko, former Polish champion, in which the referee's decision was in Zbyszko's favor. Zbyszko won two falls within 75 minutes. Zbyszko won one fall in 53 minutes.

Chicago, April 4.—Johnny Myers, of Chicago, claimant of the middleweight wrestling championship of the world, was given the referees' decision in the referee's decision world last night with Ralph Parcaut, of Spencer.

WIN FOR TILICUMS WILL BE UP LEAGUE

St. Andrew's Must Win in Senior "B" Tilt or Four Teams Will Be Even

For weeks past the Sunday School league of the city has been in a quandary as to who will be champions for this year. To-morrow night will decide the question. St. Andrew's are to meet the Tillicums in an encounter which will be well worth seeing.

If the St. Andrew's lads walk off with the game they will be announced as champions of the league but in the event of their losing it will tie up four teams in the top berth, causing a rather crowded condition, requiring three more games before a decision can be arrived at. The four leading teams in this case would be St. Andrew's, Tillicums, Metropolitan and the Rays.

The Tillicums are fielding the strongest team they can secure for the tilt as they wish to secure a chance for leadership of the league while the St. Andrew's boys are determined that the honors will go to their church.

The teams will be as follows: Tillicums—Harvey de Carteret, Ed Brackenbridge, Bill Macrieh, George McCann, George Williams and Warren Martin.

St. Andrew's—Earl Squires, Dave Barclay, Bill Erickson, Ed Cobley, Hugh Jackson and Harry McCrear.

W.I.A.A. PREPARES FOR A BIG SEASON

Will Go in for Many Branches of Sport and Expect Much Success

If the present plans of the W.I.A.A. are carried out the Summer games at Curtis Point this year will see many features, and the club should have a great time. A new lease of the property has been secured, and it is proposed to add to the existing attractions a tennis and basketball pavilion, a swimming pool, a beach and up-to-date swimming and diving equipment, also a dancing hall, and a new elected Executive Committee is confident that the coming season will prove to be the most successful in the history of the club. It is anticipated that the club membership this Summer will run close to the four figure mark, as in order to accomplish such a club is in reach of all.

W. H. Davies, who has been occupying the position of honorary superintendent of the club since its inception ten years ago has been again appointed to this position, and will supervise the general activities of the club during the ensuing season. It has also been decided by the Executive to adopt the prevailing college system of awarding the "Black V" to the athletic members who are successful in winning prestige for the club in any branch of sport.

The working committee has been formed and an immediate start will be made in preparing the grounds at Curtis Point for the annual grand opening, which will be held this year on May 24.

The Chairman and Captains appointed by the Executive Committee are as follows: Chairman—Boxing and wrestling, Al. Davies; soccer, football, Alex. Stevens; rugby football, Irving Blyth; track and field, Brook Vairo; swimming, Audrey Griffin; water polo, J. H. Palmer; canoeing, Jack Andros; Canadian football, George McKee; men's grass hockey, Les. Una Shakespear; lacrosse, M. Broadbent; men's basketball, Wm. Huxtable; ladies' basketball, Mrs. W. H. Davies; ice hockey, Jack Miss F. Bayley; tennis, Tom Jensen.

FARMERS' PARTY STATES PLATFORM

Body Organized at Kamloops, Issues a Manifesto

Vancouver, April 4.—The newly-formed Farmer Progressive Party, organized last Friday at Kamloops, has issued its manifesto, outlining the party's attitude toward matters of public interest. The platform as adopted is as follows:

1.—We believe in the principles of organization, education and true cooperation.
2.—Rigid economy in the expenditure of all public moneys and a thoroughly impartial investigation of the
P. G. E. Railway question.
3.—Abolition of the system of party patronage.
4.—Uniform freight, express and postal rates per mile throughout Canada.
5.—Establishment of a rural credit system.
6.—A uniform system of road building.

Resources.
7.—The conservation and development of the natural resources of the Province, such as the forests, for agricultural or grazing purposes, conservation of waterpower, etc.
8.—Equitable basis of assessment and taxation.
9.—Oriental question. We advocate a strict policy of Oriental exclusion, with the barring of Orientals from the holding or leasing of land in British Columbia, and would bring pressure to bear upon all civil and municipal authorities to enforce the laws and building by-laws to raise the standard of living.
10.—That no Government can be considered defeated except by a decided vote of want of confidence.

SOME IN HUNGARY TALKING OF KING

Government Says All Haps-burgs Barred by Law

Budapest, April 4.—With the death of Charles Hapsburg who was crowned King of Hungary, the provisional constitution, which was based on the fact that the King was prevented from exercising his prerogatives, must be re-drafted by the Assembly about to be elected.
Further postponement of Hungary's choice of a form of government has become impossible, and through the coming elections the people must decide the question and elect a king if the monarchical form is preferred.
Candidates for the throne are springing up again, strong parties forming for the support of the Arch-dukes Albert and Joseph Ferdinand, but many deputies are reviving the proposal for the election of an English Prince. The party favoring Francis Joseph Otto Hapsburg, eldest son of the late Charles Hapsburg, however, unquestionably is the strongest.

Although the Legationists are united on a platform upholding the claims of Otto Hapsburg, their programme is growing more radical.
The indications are that Charles Hapsburg's death has strengthened the position of the Government of Admiral Horthy, the Regent. The menace of an uprising has lost its acuteness, and the opinion is growing that Otto Hapsburg will lose the support of those pro-Hapsburgs who claim the throne on the fact of his coronation.

The Government is considering the Legitimatist desire for a national mourning, as for a sovereign, and also has stated there is no objection to the burial of the body of the late Charles Hapsburg in Hungary, if he expressed his wish in his Testament.
As regards the claims put forward for Otto Hapsburg, the Government insists that the rights of all Haps-burgs were abrogated by the throning act passed by the National Assembly and that even the election of Otto Hapsburg, which is barred by that law, depends on the consent of the Allied Powers.

A Proclamation.
Budapest, April 4.—A Legitimatist proclamation declared that "with the death of Charles, Otto the Second is king of Hungary, although temporarily prevented from coronation," has been issued, signed by nineteen artocrats, headed by Count Albert Apponyi.

Cardinal Gernoch, Primate of Hungary, made no declaration.
He expressed his opinion Otto Hapsburg had become King.

The Municipal Council has adopted a resolution by Count Apponyi that the body of the late Charles Hapsburg be buried in Budapest.

COAL WAGES TO BE DISCUSSED

Several Independent Producers in U. S. Ready to Negotiate

New York, April 4.—Coal strike leaders announced here to-day that the anthracite miners' general scale committee would accept a demand by several independent producers to offer of several independent producers to grant the strikers' nineteen week demands immediately if they would return to work.

Acceptance of these offers, hailed by union men as "the first break in the ranks of the operators," may lead to the negotiation of separate contracts and reopening of the mines affected, according to district presidents of the United Mine Workers of America.

Some forty delegates of the three district unions composing the politics committee arrived here to-day.

YOUNG FISH TO BE CALLED FINGERLINGS

New York, April 4.—Yearling fish and those at least one inch fingerlings, according to a new classification of the State Conservation Committee sent to hatchery foremen. Fingerlings

No. 1 must measure less than two inches in length; No. 2, less than three inches; No. 3 may run from three inches on to whales?
They're fry when they begin to feed, and advanced fry up to an inch in length.

TO-DAY'S TRADING IN WINNIPEG MARKETS

Winnipeg, April 4.—Following the easier opening the local wheat market quickly recovered, but trading continued at the same level. Local selling was responsive, but the advance was not 15 1/2.
Both May and July closed at a loss of 3/4 cent. The market was quiet. The market was quiet. The market was quiet.

There appeared to be some good buying of May wheat between 12 1/2 and 13 1/2, but the trade was limited. The market continued sensitive.

Coarse grains were steady, with oats and barley practically unchanged, while flax and rye were somewhat lower.

The cash market for wheat was quiet, with a very ordinary trade passing. The demand for wheat and the coarse grains is anything but brisk, while the offerings are light, especially in the wheat market. Premium on No. 1 Northern wheat, with a little better demand, advanced 1/4 cent today. Inspections totaled 1,155 cars, of which 300 were wheat. Ins

COUNCIL ACCEPTS NO "DEMAND" LETTER

Refuse to Consider Too Vigorously-worded Missives

The City Council can be "asked" to do something but nothing can be "demanded" of it. The Amalgamated Society of Carpenters and Joiners will find this out as soon as the City Clerk can acquaint it of these facts. When a letter from the carpenters' organization "demanding" the continuance of unemployment relief was read at the Council meeting last night Alderman A. E. Todd jumped to his feet with "I don't intend as a member of this Council to accept any communication with the word 'demand' in it. I move that the writers be so informed." "Second the motion," said Alderman Gillespie, and the motion was carried.

Other unions which wrote to the Council asking that relief measures be continued used less vigorous language than the carpenters and so they will receive in return letters informing them of the Council's intention to continue its present unemployment policy for some time yet.

Attempt to Block Levy On Improvements Fails In Fiery Council Debate

Woodward Demands Plebiscite and Perry's Resignation If He Betrays Pledge; Perry's Vigorous Defence Features Debate, Which Ends In Narrow Victory For Improvement Taxers; Huge Petition For Referendum.

After the most stormy debate in years, the City Council, on a tie vote, last night blocked a sudden move by opponents of improvement taxation to submit a plebiscite on the tax issue to the electors April 13.

Alderman E. S. Woodward led the fight for a tax referendum, and asked the Council to grant the petition of 3,500 electors for such a plebiscite, and finally demanded that Alderman R. W. Perry should resign if he would not carry out his pre-election pledge that he would vote for the referendum. This led to an exchange between Alderman Woodward and Alderman Perry. Alderman Woodward declared that Alderman Perry's present opposition to the referendum was a "bad reflection" on the Council's standard of honor. Alderman Perry came back with a slashing defence of his conduct and the argument was still going on when the Mayor called a halt.

Finally Alderman Woodward's motion that the Council submit a plebiscite on the taxation question to the voters April 13 was defeated thus:

For—Mayor Marchant and Aldermen Woodward, Dewar, Harvey and Andrews.

Against—Aldermen Leeming, Gillespie, Perry, Hayward, Todd.

By a similar vote, the Council also defeated Alderman Todd's motion that no plebiscite be submitted.

This left the situation in doubt and the Mayor said he would look up the rules of order on the subject before the next meeting. As Alderman Patrick, father of the improvement tax plan, will be present then, the opponents of the levy have little hope of passing a referendum motion.

Receives Petition.
When the petition asking for a tax plebiscite came up City Clerk Bradley certified that it contained the names of 3,500 persons over twenty per cent of the electors.

"There is no case in the history of this Council so far as I know where the Council has merely received and filed a petition of that kind," Alderman Woodward declared. "One alderman specifically said: he would not vote for the taxation of improvements until the matter had been decided by the electors and was elected on that attitude. This petition is presented to-night to give him a chance to redeem that pledge."

Alderman Woodward said he had been told "by someone who ought to know" that if the City Assessor were taken into court and sworn, as he would have to swear, "that he had not assessed improvements and given them no attention over a number of years the whole thing would be held invalid. These proceedings would not only involve heavy legal expenses but might 'jeopardize the whole assessment and make it impossible to collect taxes from anyone this year.'"

The people who opposed the improvement tax Alderman Woodward said, were willing to leave the taxation plebiscite until the next annual election and would pay the cost of the plebiscite.

Alderman Leeming regretted that the Council, when some of its members, including himself, were unaware of what was going on, had passed a by-law recently allowing it to submit a plebiscite like that proposed in the petition. He said that the only way the City could raise money to carry it through the present year was to tax improvements. This was the only revenue avenue open to the City. He said that he had produced figures to show the City's pressing financial position. Taxation of improvements was absolutely inevitable, he added.

The Recent By-Election.
"I am opposed to the improvement tax," I was elected on that ticket and will stand on that ticket," said Alderman Perry admitted that before the last election he had been opposed to levying an improvement tax unless the electors were consulted. Since then, however, he had changed his mind, as he was now "on the inside looking out." Every important city in Canada taxed improvements, he said, and Vancouver, where improvements were taxed, building had been more active in the last eighteen months than for six years. Alderman Perry did not believe in plebiscites between elections. "Are we a responsible body or not?" he demanded. "I think we are, and I am going to take the responsibility of what we do. I will do it. Pretty soon we will have to submit a plebiscite every time we want to put a sewer across a block."

"If you want to force the City into bankruptcy the present taxation system is the surest way of doing it," Alderman Leeming affirmed. "And if that happens the tax will be fifty per cent of the improvements, not one-third of them."

Alderman Woodward opposed the improvement tax, in a second speech, because it was just a new penalty on industry and progress.

Calls For Resignation.
It was at this point that Alderman Woodward demanded Alderman Perry's resignation. "If Alderman Perry has changed his mind since his election then it is his duty to give the electors an opportunity to change their minds about his election," he explained. "It is his duty to hand in his resignation. If he will do that I will also resign and we will fight an election on the issue. He gave an express pledge on this matter."

"I did not," Alderman Perry interrupted. "I say you did!"

"Address the chair!" said the Mayor.

"He gave a pledge to a body of electors who wanted information," Alderman Woodward went on. "What right has he to break his word?"

"Address the chair and go on!" Alderman Perry interrupted.

"If the people think more of Alderman Perry's word than he does himself then it is a sad reflection on the standard of honor in this Council!" Alderman Woodward exclaimed.

CITY ASKS SHORTLY TO UNDERTAKE PROBE OF CIVIC FINANCES

Dr. Adam Shortt, the well-known authority on civic economy, will be asked by the City Council immediately to undertake a thorough investigation of the city's financial position and administration generally.

The Council decided last night to accept the offer of Victoria business men to provide $2,500 to pay for this investigation, and to request Dr. Shortt to come here to start his enquiries as soon as possible.

"I will not take that from anyone!" retorted Alderman Perry in his vigorous speech of defence. "I gave no pledge on this issue. Only one man spoke to me on the subject before the election. I never discussed the matter on the platform as I was ill during the campaign."

"I am a poor man and all I have to defend is my honor and I will not allow anyone to challenge it! If the people of this city have not filled their wishes they can turn me out at the end of my term. Alderman Woodward is astute and hits the nail on the head. He is an old enough to take care of himself. I will defend my honor at all costs!" he added, speaking at the top of his voice up to Alderman Woodward to apologize to me."

"If my statement that he regards his word less seriously than do the electors requires an apology, I apologize," said Alderman Woodward while the Mayor vainly tried to halt the discussion.

Alderman Leeming attempted to come to Alderman Perry's aid but he was stopped by the Mayor, who involved the rules of order to prevent a fresh outbreak of feeling.

Alderman Dewar opposed the improvement tax which, he said, would not prevent the reversion of vacant land but would cause the reversion of improved land.

The Mayor said he was willing to delay an improvement tax petition until the next annual election but to a discussion took place as to the names of the governing bodies were the causes of revolutions, he added.

The vote on the question was then taken as recorded in the foregoing.

DAY LABOR WILL RECONSTRUCT OLD TOLMIE SCHOOL

Tenders All Too High; Saanich School Board Tries New Plan

Breaking away from all precedents, the Saanich School Board last night decided to reconstruct the old Tolmie school by day labor rejecting estimates submitted by a number of tenderers. This is the first undertaking of the kind, all previous schools having been built by contract.

The tenders ranged from $6,340 down to $4,895. The low figure so greatly exceeded the preliminary estimates of the Trustees as to induce Chairman Holloway to remark, "If we had had this job in the first place, that this work would cost so much, we would never have gone so far with the project."

Impetuous Need.
Trustee Mrs. Humphries was equally disappointed by the reminder of Mr. Board "simply must be the accommodation," whereupon the chairman suggested the day labor plan.

Province Aids Plan.
The Provincial Department of Education had agreed to bear one-third of the cost of restoring the school as a three-roomed unit for primary classes, but the school board would apply to the actual construction cost on the same basis as new construction, making the Board's investment $5,750 on the lowest tender, while the provision made in the annual estimates is only $3,000.

Contractors Cautious.
It is on these grounds the Board decided upon day labor, the opinion of Architect Hubert Savage coinciding when he remarked, "You can certainly save by day labor, as not one of the contractors bidding is going to take any chance on remodeling such an old building. I certainly thought $4,000 would cover the cost."

Trustee Hull remarked, "We will save a thousand dollars if we get the right man in charge," and the Board decided to entrust selection of a foreman to a special committee of the whole Board, with Trustee Hobbs as chairman. The committee will have supervision of the work and let the contract for plumbing, plastering and wiring.

Regret was expressed that the school would not be ready for use at the Easter re-opening. It was suggested that classes be held in a marquee for the intervening weeks. Trustees Hobbs and Mrs. Humphries heartily approved of the idea, though this was abandoned in favor of endeavoring to secure temporary accommodation in the Douglas Street Baptist Church basement.

COUNCIL AND BOARD UNITE IN DEFENCE OF DRYDOCK WORK

Esquimalt Faces a Serious State of Finances With Government Work Ceasing

That Esquimalt, as far as the Council and Board of Trade were concerned, would oppose the closing of the drydock "from the drop of the hat" and seek in every way possible to secure the re-opening of work at the site was decided at a joint meeting of the Council with the Board of Trade last night. Reeve Alexander Lockley occupied the chair. The Esquimalt Board of Trade was present in a strong delegation headed by R. H. Pooley, M.P.P.

Others in the delegation included Vice-President R. C. Long, School Trustee Major Mulcahy, P. W. Tribe, George Wace, Rev. Father Silver, Capt. R. Matheson and W. H. Hadley. The speakers discussed the social aspect of the case briefly, but united in the conclusion that the closing of the dry dock work was a disaster for Esquimalt. With 350 men thrown out of employment, on a flooded labor market, and with the lack of future prospects as an industrial area, the closing of the Government project has hit Esquimalt harder than any other single district, or group, it was stated.

Effect on Taxation.
Under this condition, it would be impossible to collect a greater portion of the taxes that would otherwise have been met, felt the Council and the situation for the corporation at the end of the year would be intensely critical, it was said. The only ray of hope held out to the conference was that advanced by Mr. Pooley, as President of the Esquimalt Board of Trade, who suggested that the closing down of the work might perhaps mean the signing of a new contract under new conditions.

A discussion took place as to the ways and means by which the Council and Board of Trade could meet the situation. One section of the conference was strongly in favor of a delegate going from Esquimalt to advance the views of that district, as the most affected. Another group thought that Esquimalt should get behind any move the City made, and lend moral support along that line. It was finally decided to authorize the Reeve to attend the meeting of the heads of public bodies at the Chamber of Commerce on Wednesday, when the Council and Board of Trade would receive further enlightenment on the whole question.

Effect on Community.
Reeve Lockley pointed out that the closing of the contract meant that Esquimalt lost its most promising augury for the future. The Government would have expended the sum of between $2,500,000 and $2,750,000 for "a hole in the ground."

The direct outcome of the meeting was the centring of goodwill between the Council and the Board of Trade and the determination of the members to stay together in this controversy to the last ditch.

Engineer Explains New Bridge Costs
Gives Full Details of Viaduct Project; Describes Difficulties

Full details concerning the cost of the new Johnson Street Bridge are contained in a report laid before the Council last night by City Engineer F. M. Preston. In answer to a list of questions prepared by Alderman R. W. Perry, Mr. Preston's report says:

"Following instructions received on the 27th March, the following are answers to Alderman Perry's questions re the above:

"1. Amount borrowed under by-law: Up to March 20, $408,000 of debentures had been sold.

"2. Amount of original estimate for the whole of the work: The original estimate was $720,000.

"3. Particulars of work done by City Engineer and also the work still under way by this Department: The work that has been carried out by day labor consisted of part of the east abutment, the whole of the counterweight trunnion pier, part of the main trunnion pier, and the whole of the west abutment. The work under way at the present time is the final clearing up of this work in the way of removing form work, piling, etc.

"4. Cost of work done by City Engineer: The cost of this work to the middle of March was $199,480.

"5. Estimated cost of completion of work now being done by City Engineer's Department: Estimated cost $6,606.

"6. Particulars of contracts let and prices for same: Contract No. 1 consisted of the substructure work described in question No. 3. This contract was not let, and instructions were given for it to be carried out by day labor. All proposals received were based upon quantities and prices, or a schedule basis, no proposals for a lump sum contract being received. Upon these charges the lowest estimate was $177,376 for day labor, and the lowest contract price was $214,177. The actual cost of this work, based on the actual quantity of work done was $206,088, and the estimate cost at the schedule price submitted for day labor was $192,047. If this work had been let to the lowest contractor, his price would have worked out to $239,766, representing a saving to the City, by having carried out the work by day labor of $33,680.

"Contract No. 2 was let to the Canadian Bridge Company for the superstructure of the highway side of the bridge, for the sum of $239,400, to which must be added Strauss' royalty and designing fees, and also the mill and shop inspection fees, bringing the total to approximately $257,000.

"7. Amounts paid on these contracts and amounts still owing: Contract No. 1. This question has already been answered.

"Contract No. 2. $15,233, leaving a balance of $241,767 to be paid.

"8. Particulars of work still to be done and estimated cost of same: "Contract No. 3 for the railway superstructure, now estimated, including all fees as stated above, at $222,000.

"Contract No. 4 being the completion of the substructure work, estimated at $30,000.

"Contract No. 5, being the completion of the road, trunnion, and approach spans of the highway superstructure, upon completion of the railway superstructure, $5,000, east approaches consisting of the filling and paving required at the foot of Johnson Street, $10,000. West approaches being the construction of a small bridge, and the necessary paving work on the reserve, $24,000.

"9. Estimated cost of removal of bridge: Is $7,000.

"In order to make the above clear, the following statement is attached: "In order to give the Council some idea of the difficulties entailed in estimating bridge work even only a few weeks ahead, and not as had to be done with the by-law, some years ahead than that made by bridge contractors for work to be done a few months ahead."

William found a pocketbook
But the string jerked it back

It looked like a happy discovery as it lay there on the sidewalk—until the discoverer reached to pick it up. Then the hidden string jerked it away. All William got was disappointment.

That's the way a good many people have found it to be with the comfort and cheer they thought they had secured in tea and coffee. When they came to depend on it—there was a hidden string, and nothing left but disappointment.

The drug, caffeine, in tea and coffee, is a nerve stimulant. Constant stimulation of the nerves often produces rebellion that takes the form of sleeplessness, headaches, irritability, high blood pressure. That's the string to tea and coffee.

Postum, that wholesome and delightful cereal beverage, is completely satisfying and there's no harmful quality whatsoever, to jerk away the comfort which you find in this splendid table drink. Any member of the family may enjoy Postum with any meal—and there will be no after-regrets.

Postum comes in two forms: Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meal is being prepared) made by boiling for 20 minutes. Sold by grocers.
